QUEEN MARIE WILL SAIL FOR ROUMANIA WITHIN NEXT WEEK

Announces Decision To Cut U. S. Tour Short And Return To Homeland

May Go Direct To New York From Louisville, Ky.—King's Condition Worse

By DAVID P. SENTNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ABOARD QUEEN MARIE'S SPECIAL TRAIN, (in Louisville, Ky.,) Nov. 18.—Queen Marie of Roumania today cut short her triumphal tour of America when she received word that the days of King Ferdinand were numbered.

"My heart is heavy", said her majesty with tears in her eyes. "I have heard unfortunate news. I must go home. I am a soldier and duty takes precedence".

May Sail November 24

The Balkan queen will take the first available liner that may carry her back to Bucharest, where she may nurse her beloved monarch. It is planned at present for her to sail from New York on the Berengaria November 24. She had previously expected to sail December 11.

A cable in cipher from abroad reporting the grave condition of the King of Roumania caused her majesty to make the unexpected an-

Final Survey Of Wampum Bridge Site Is Ordered

Action Taken At Meeting Of Commissioners And Public Service Commission

BRIDGE WILL COST NEARLY HALF MILLION

To Eliminate Both The Baltimore & Ohio And P. & L. E. Grade Crossings

At a conference of the county commissioners and the Public Service Commisison relative to the proposed Wampum bridge and viaduct, yesterday in Pittsburgh, it was decided to have a final survey of the site made before definite action is taken by the commission.

It was virtually agreed to build the bridge and viaduct on what is known as the upper site. This will necessitate some change in the highway on the Chewton side of the river and will eliminate the Bal-

Purnell, Weak And Sick; Planning For Defense

BENJAMIN PURNELL

(International News Service)

BENTON HARBOR, Mich., Nov. 18.—Suffering from a severe attack of diabetes, which has crippled him in the last year, "King" Benjamin Purnell, aged leader of the House of David, was back in the colony today, a weak, sick man.

Purnell was released from jail late yesterday on $70,000 bond posted by local business men. His hearing on two serious charges made by former girl members of the sect, has been set for December 22.

Million Dollar Defense

W. J. Barnard, attorney for the colony, announced that Purnell was determined to fight for final vindication in the courts. A defense fund of almost a million dollars will be available, if needed, it was reported.

In an official statement the House of David denounced the press as a "poisoner of public opinion" and used orders barring newspapermen from the grounds.

Bowing in homage, "King" Ben's followers greeted him in royal fashion when he returned to the colony yesterday after being freed on bond. Some kissed his palsied hand. Only a few members of the colony were permitted to see him today.

Mrs. Bessie Daniels Woodworth, former girl member of the colony, whose tip to state police led to the arrest of the cult chieftain, recounted her experiences with Purnell.

Over $350,000 In Christmas Funds To Be Distributed Here Early In December

Sometime after December 1, and before December 7, six banks of this city will turn into the channels of commerce, a flow of dollars, amounting to $350,000.00. It will be the annual Christmas Savings fund, and from the reports of the banks that feature this form of savings, there is an average of over $5.00 each for every man, woman and child in the city, in these funds.

The totals of the various banks follows: Lawrence Savings and Trust $175,000.00; Safe Deposit and Trust $50,000.00; Union National bank $37,000.00; Peoples Savings and Trust $35,000.00; Home Trust $28,000.00; Mahoning Trust $25,000.00; total $350,000.00.

Approximate Totals

These totals are approximate, and may go slightly over the figures shown. While not exceptionally large, this year, it is a healthy total and indicates that the savings habit is firmly implanted in this city.

The total of the savings fund in the various banks will mean much to the merchants of the city. Released in plenty of time for Christmas buying it will mean a heavy buying of gifts, and many will profit by the scheme which has seen millions of dollars saved in New Castle since its inauguration here a few years ago.

And some of it no doubt, will go back as a nest egg for the Christmas Savings fund which is due a year from now.

SEE SLIGHT HOPE OF RESCUING 6 MINERS TRAPPED BY FLOOD

Six Men Imprisoned Underground By Flood Waters Believed Doomed

PUMPS HAMPERED BY MOUNDS OF MUD

Officials Directing Rescue Declare No Sign Of Life From Beneath Surface

(International News Service)

HAZLETON, Pa., Nov. 18.—As rescue workers placed more pumps in position for operation today, little hope was expressed that the six men trapped behind a bank of flood waters in the Tomhicken colliery of the Lehigh Valley Coal Company near here would be rescued alive.

The six men, with four others who escaped, were trapped when the bed of a creek broke Tuesday following heavy rains, flooding the workings of the mine.

No Sign From Miners

Mine officials, directing the work, said today that no sign of life had been obtained from the six miners. However, the work was being pushed with all speed in the hopes that the men have found a high point in the mine above the water level.

The men were trapped more than 1,000 feet below the surface, on No. 16 level.

It is expected that it will take several days to pump the water from the workings to such a point that first aid workers can descend to the No. 16 slope of the mine.

Mud and debris in the mouth of the drift where the pumps must be operated have hampered the workers.

Gathered about the mouth of the mine are many idle miners and women and children, families of the entombed men, awaiting some word from the victims.

The flow of the creek, which is a torrential stream, has been diverted from the mine and directed to its regular channel.

Cold Wave Nears

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 18.—The U. S. weather bureau today predicted that Western Pennsylvania will be in the grip of a cold wave over the week end. Rain and snow are expected tonight, the forecaster said, after which the mercury will take a sudden drop.

The rivers were falling steadily, a drop of six inches being recorded since the peak was reached yesterday.

Charge Woman Kills Husband

Declares She Had To Shoot To Save Her Own Life In Chicago Home

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—Mrs. James Curran, an attractive middle-aged matron, was being held today in connection with the shooting and death of her husband, James Curran, a former police officer.

Mrs. Curran admitted firing the fatal shot, but declared it was necessary to save her own life, that her husband had been drinking and threatened to kill her.

"It was my life or his," she told arresting officers. "The gun was the same with which he tried to kill me three weeks ago. I had him arrested for that; the judge dismissed him, but gave me the gun. I'm sorry I had to use it."

SCARLET FEVER HAS DISAPPEARED

First Fall Since World War Days That Cases Have Not Been Reported

Dr. William L. Steen, city health officer, today stated that, apparently, scarlet fever has been curbed in New Castle. "It has been several months since a case has been reported to our office" he said today.

According to Dr. Steen, scarlet fever spread during World War days and while each year has seen the number of cases diminish, the fall of this year has resulted in it apparently having disappeared.

"We are glad to note this but should any cases be reported the health department will act immediately to prevent its spread," said the health officer.

Two Are Killed In New York Fire

Four Others Seriously Injured In Tenement House Blaze Early Today

RESCUE 25 OTHERS TRAPPED BY FIRE

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Fire which swept a tenement building at Madison avenue early today killed two persons and resulted in serious injury to four others. Twenty-five persons trapped by the flames were carried from the building by firemen.

The dead are Hyman Bush, 42, a tenant and his 11 year old daughter Emma.

His wife, Rebecca 37 and their two other children Dora, 9, and Esther, 6 and a boarder Emanuel Borg were overcome by smoke and seriously burned. At Mount Sinai hospital surgeons said the two children had little chance for recovery.

The blaze was believed to have started in a baby carriage in the rear of the lower hall from a cigarette stub.

NIGHT SCHOOL SESSIONS OPEN

With an enrollment of 35, the night school classes in the Lincoln-Garfield school opened Wednesday evening under the supervision of Principal James M. Hughes with Peter Grittie assisting.

The number in the first enrollment indicates an interest in the classes and Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools is pleased with the initial success. Classes will be held Wednesday and Friday evenings each week, from 7:30 to 9 o'clock. The classes will consist of elementary subjects and Americanization work.

Physician Found Murder Victim At Steubenville, Ohio

Mystery Surrounds Finding Of Doctor's Body Riddled With Bullets

HAD PREMONITION OF DEATH, REPORT

Reveal Divorce Suit Filed By Slain Doctor At St. Clairsville

(International News Service)

STEUBENVILLE, O., Nov. 18.—Hounded and driven from one city to another for years by enemies who have not been identified, Dr. J. L. Delphino, 51, fell a victim to their bullets on a lonely road here early this morning.

The physician's body was found, slumped to the floor of his automobile, riddled with bullets from an automatic pistol at Bates bridge, across the river from here.

Dr. Delphino came here from Martins Ferry about a year ago. His arrival was unostentatious but his ability as a practitioner soon brought him local fame. He admitted to friends that he had fled from one town to another in the hope of evading enemies but did not explain the circumstances. He said he left Martins Ferry when he felt fears for his life.

Divorce Suit Filed.

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., Nov. 18.—A divorce suit on trial today in the Belmont county common pleas court showed that Dr. D. L. Delphino, who was mysteriously murdered near Steubenville, O., was asking a divorce from what authorities said was his common law wife. The action was taken to clear his marriage to his second wife, they said.

The physician filed the suit while residing at Martins Ferry, O., where he once was under arrest charged with pointing firearms and was involved in various civil suits.

Five In Family Are Poisoned By Breakfast

Wellesley College Professor And Family Seriously Ill

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—Prof. Henry Meyer of Wellesley college, his wife and thre children were battling for their lives today as police waited at the state house for experts to analyze parts of a "poison meal" and furnish a clue to the trail of a fiend who, authorities are convinced, attempted a wholesale poisoning.

Something that each member of the family ate for breakfast yesterday contained the poison that so nearly carried death with it.

Today Prof. Meyer said from his sick bed that he knew of no enemy who would attempt to kill his family.

Mrs. Meyer prepared the breakfast, the maid being away.

STATE'S STAR WITNESS IN HALL-MILLS CASE GIVES HER TESTIMONY

Mrs. Jane Gibson, "The Pig Woman", Taken Into Court Room On Bed; Declares Mrs. Hall And Two Brothers Were At Scene Of Murder Of Rev. Edward Hall And Mrs. Eleanor Mills —Declares Positively There Is No Mistake In Her Identification.

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

COURTHOUSE, SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 18.—Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall and her two brothers, Willie and Henry Stevens, were at the scene of the murder of the Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills on the night of September 14, 1922, Mrs. Jane Gibson, the state's star witness, testified from a bed in the Somerset county courthouse today.

Mrs. Gibson had been brought here in an ambulance from a Jersey City hospital and placed on a little white bed in front of the jurors so that she could relate her "eye-witness" story.

First Declaration Affecting Stevens

It was her first courtroom declaration that Henry Stevens was present at the murder scene and created a sensation. Henry Stevens clenched his hands over the arms of his chair.

When Mrs. Gibson asserted that she saw Mrs. Hall at the scene of the double murder Prosecutor Simpson said to the defendant: "Will you please remove your hat?"

Mrs. Hall removed her black hat.

"Is that the woman you saw at the scene?" Simpson asked, his voice resounding through the courtroom.

Mrs. Gibson turned her towel-bandaged head and in a low but clear voice said:

"Yes, that is the woman I saw that night."

Mrs. Gibson then identified both Willie and Henry Stevens as the other two she saw at the scene of the murder.

"Have you any doubt as to their identity?" Simpson asked.

Mrs. Gibson paused dramatically, and then said:

"I have absolutely no doubt."

Prosecutor Simpson had asked Mrs. Gibson what she had seen in the lane on the fatal night after she had gone out on her Jenny mule in search of corn thieves who had been stealing her corn. The barking of her dog quartered in the barn of her sixty-one acre farm, three miles from the scene, had caused her to leave her house, mount her mule and follow a rickety wagon that went in the direction of De Russey's Lane. She followed long enough to learn that the wagon was empty and did not contain any of her corn.

Sees Three Persons.

It was while returning home thru the lane that she came upon the three persons near the now famous crabapple tree.

Q. When you got to the tree did you get off the mule?

A. Yes, and tied the mule to a cedar tree.

Q. What if anything, did you hear?

A. I heard mumbling voices. They kept coming closer and closer.

Q. What did you hear them say?

A. I heard some one say: "How do you explain these letters?"

"Then I heard: 'Damn it, let go'. Then I heard the wind going out of some one; then I heard some one scream. Then there was a flash light from here to there (illustrated) and something glittered.

Q. Then did you hear a woman's voice?

A. I heard a shot and a woman said: Henry, easy, easy, easy, Henry!" Then there was a shot and something fell to the ground. Ther a woman was screaming.

Ran For Mule.

Q. What did you do?

A. I ran for my mule and jumped on it. I stubbed my toe on a stump while I ran.

Q. That was when you lost your moccasin?

A. Yes, then came shots—bang, bang, bang. I was on my mule, by this time.

Q. Then what did you do?

A. I went home and sat down and began thinking about my corn.

WORK UNDER WAY ON BIG EXTENSION TO LOCAL INDUSTRY

Preliminary work on the erection of the new tunnel kiln of the Universal Sanitary Manufacturing company and a large extension of the plant is under way according to C. J. Kirk president of the company, and with no untoward delays the kiln will be completed in three or four months.

The new kiln means much, not alone to the Universal but to the industrial life of New Castle. It will double the capacity of the plant, and will show a similar increase in the number of men employed.

The need of the new kiln is made apparent through the fact that the Universal is now manufacturing sanitary ware in colors. Formerly all ware was made in white, but recently such ware has been made in greens, browns and blacks and has found a ready market.

Because the local plant has kept a step ahead of the trade in the development of new ideas in their line the colored wares have been manufactured for some time and the new kiln will make it possible to turn out the colored product in quantities.

The excavation work necessary is well under way, foundations are started, all the grading work has been done and in a few weeks progress will be shown on the erection of the building proper.

It may be halitosis, or a badly fallen arch, or it may be that the motor needs some iodine or starch, or it may be twisted tendons, that are nearly torn apart, but I know one thing, the engine of my flivver will not start. Last night I had it standing just outside the movie show, and when I came out expected that as usual it would go, but I tramped upon the starter and it never gave a snort, and the lady who was with me, made a caustic-like retort. But the motor never whimpered, it was tongue-tied I'll be bound, so I had to grab the handle and proceed to spin it round. Now the expert guy has got it, and he's torn the thing apart, just to see the cause of trouble why the engine wouldn't start, and for that mechanic's service, I will have to pay and pay, oh these flivvers are a pleasure, weather's forty-one today.

Legion Drive Starts Friday

Dinner At Legion Home To Make Start Of Local Campaign

The captains of the eight teams, according to Chairman Davis, are requested to get their team members out for the meeting Friday evening in order that the drive may get under way with the proper enthusiasm.

The eight team captains are: No. 1, R. Lloyd Boyd; No. 2, Bernard Hook; No. 3, W. E. Hughes; No. 4, Degraff Robinson; No. 5, Harold Blewitt; No. 6, Phil Greer; No. 7, Edwin Hoye; No. 8, John McKibben.

Turn Prisoner Over To Federal Court

John Santell, arrested here recently on a charge of pandering made before Alderman William E. Marshall by County Detective Geo. S. Kennedy in behalf of Stella Evans has been, owing to developments in the case turned over to the federal authorities and taken to Pittsburgh by a United States marshal where he will face the charge of violating the Mann White Slave act. According to allegations he took the Evans woman to an Ohio town and attempted to force her to live an immoral life.

timore & Ohio and the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie grade crossings.

The Baltimore & Ohio grade crossing on the Chewton hill has long been considered a death trap. several persons having been killed at this point. Several have also been killed at the west end of the present bridge, where the road crosses the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie.

To Span Railroads.

The proposed viaduct will span the Baltimore & Ohio tracks in the east, or Chewton side, and the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie tracks on the west as well as the Beaver river. The viaduct would land near the present site of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie station.

The bridge and viaduct, it is estimated, will cost close to half a million dollars. It will be one of the largest and most expensive bridges in the county. The costs will be divided between the railroads and the county, as their interests may appear. It is possible that something may be secured from the state, but there is nothing certain as to what proportion, if any.

County Engineer C. H. Milholland will begin a final survey at once. As soon as it is completed the drawings will be sent to Harrisburg for inspection of the Public Service Commission when further action will be taken.

In Chicago a barrel of beer costs $3 to make and sells at $60, leaving $57 for ammunition.

The Dumb Waiter

STATE'S STAR WITNESS IN HALL-MILLS CASE GIVES HER TESTIMONY

And thinking about those shots. I says to myself 'There is something wrong'. So I went back and tied my mule to the tree and I saw something very bright. Then I looked and saw a gray haired woman was on her knees doing something with her hands.

Q. And have you identified that woman?

A. Yes, Mrs. Hall.

Q. Have you identified the man you saw?

A. Yes, Henry Stevens.

Q. Do you see in this courtroom any persons you saw that night?

Her head was raised by the nurse.

A. Yes.

Q. Point them out.

She then identified Mrs. Hall and her brothers.

The court room, packed far beyond its capacity, was held in hushed silence by Mrs. Gibson's story.

As she told of seeing Mrs. Hall kneeling and weeping Mrs. Hall raised her gloved hand to her face, then dropped it, and clenched it into a fist, her lips worked nervously.

Henry Nervous

Henry Stevens was plainly nervous for the first time since the trial started and his ruddy face lost some of its color.

He did not drop his gaze, however, holding his head high, his eyes on the witness.

Defense Attorney Case asked the identity of a person standing near Salome Cerenner, Mrs. Gibson's aged mother, who is to be a witness for the defense against her daughter. Simpson told Case it was a police officer put there in case "you (Case) have planned for her to cry out while this woman is testifying."

"I object to this," shouted Case.

"Oh, well," said Simpson nonchalantly, "He is there to preserve order."

Says Bribe Offered

Prosecutor Simpson then took a picture of Felix Di Martini, who for several months after the murder, was Mrs. Hall's private detective, the woman lying on the bed if she had ever seen him

"Yes," said Mrs. Gibson, "he came to my window and said: 'I will pay you to keep your mouth out of this'. I banged my gun on the floor and told him to get out of the house.

"Why did you bang the gun down?" Simpson inquired.

"I was afraid of him. He got right out."

While Mrs. Gibson was giving her dramatic testimony in a setting more strange than ever witnessed in a court room Henry De La Bruyerre Carpender, cousin of the three defendants also charged with murder, but not on trial now, was brought into court from the jail tunnel and was seated near Henry Stevens.

Witness is Very Weak.

Simpson asked the jurors if they had heard all of Mrs. Gibson's testimony, some of which was given in a weak, barely audible voice. One of the jurors said he did not. So the prosecutor asked Judge Charles W. Parker, who is sitting on the case with Judge Frank L. Cleary, if he would instruct the court stenographer to read the testimony to the 12 men.

Judge Parker instructed the stenographer to do so. While the stenographer was monotonously reading the questions and answers, Mrs. Gibson asked the nurse to prop her up a little and she wiped her perspiring forehead with a handkerchief. Then she closed her tired eyes. In profile her face might have been that of a dead woman. An occasional movement of her hands, once brown with heavy work, now gray with hospital pallor, indicated she was really alive, but very weak.

The physician standing by Mrs. Gibson's bed took her pulse.

When the court stenographer finished Defense Counsel Clarence E. Case began a cross-examination of the witness.

Cross Examined.

Case's examination was conducted in a considerate tone. He asked his questions slowly.

Q. Mrs. Gibson, do you know Mr. Fred David (Middlesex county detective)?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Do you remember one evening when he requested you to go over what you did that night?

A. They didn't ask me to do nothing. I went over the same thing all over again.

Q. You remember that evening?

A. Yes. It was the night after Clifford Hayes was arrested.

Hays is the chap who four years ago was accused of the murder by Raymond Schneider, who with Pearl Bahmer found the bodies of Rev. Hall and Mrs. Mills in De Russey's lane on Saturday morning, Sept. 16, 36 hours after the slaying.

Q. Is it a fact that you returned to the scene in the daylight of the next day?

Denies Questions.

A. No, I did not. I didn't go back until I went with David.

Case asked her if she knew Mr. George Seidle. She said she did. Case asked her if she ever told him she "would like to tell a certain story".

She hesitated and then replied: "Oh, yes, I remember. He said to me: 'How much will you take for two mules'?

Case switched quickly to another question.

Q. Did you tell Mr. Taller and Mr. David that while you were riding along De Russey's Lane that you did not get off the mule, but rode straight home after hearing the shots?

A. No.

Mrs. Gibson seemed to be getting weak at this point.

Dr. Charles Snyder, the young physician in attendance took her temperature.

Her temperature was 102.4.

The sick woman shook her head from side to side as Case tried time and again to get her to say that she tried to get George Seidle to corroborate her story of what she saw in the lane on the night of the murders.

"I did not", she reiterated with shake of the head.

Case resumed his cross examination.

Q. Do you remember on Oct. 17th, 1922, you were at the prosecutor's office in New Brunswick and given an opportunity to identify Mrs. Hall and Henry and Willie Stevens?

Simpson objected. Case re-framed the question.

Q. Were you able to identify Mrs. Hall and Henry and Willie Stevens in the prosecutor's office Oct. 17, 1922?

A. I wasn't asked to identify nobody.

Q. Did you tell John Fitzgerald, a reporter, that you could not identify anybody?

A. I told him I had nothing to say.

While Case was cross examining the woman on the bed the six other lawyers for the so-called "million dollar defense" sat tensely in their chairs, gathering in every word. It was the defense's announced intention to break down the witness' testimony under a gruelling cross examination.

Bring In Henry Carpender

Case then asked Mrs. Gibson if she didn't remember testifying at the preliminary hearing in August, 1926, in answer to a question by Simpson that:

"I saw something glitter and it was a man's face."

Case turned and pointed to Henry Carpender, the fourth defendant, who is to be tried later and who had been brought into the courtroom from his cell this morning.

"Did you not say," asked Case, amid an impressive silence in the court room, "that it was: 'This man here'?"

"Yes," replied Mrs. Gibson.

"Mr. Carpender, come here," commanded Case.

Carpender rose and stood at the foot of Mrs. Gibson's bed.

"That's one of the men," Mrs. Gibson said.

"You didn't say anything about there being any other man there?"

Simpson objected but Judge Parker admitted the question.

"Nobody asked me," was her reply.

And you might make a monkey mad by calling him a distant relative of the hyena.

QUEEN MARIE WILL SAIL FOR ROUMANIA WITHIN NEXT WEEK

nouncement. A state of temporary chaos reigned aboard the royal Roumanian special as sheaves of telegrams were dispatched canceling all social engagements.

Uncertain on Tour

Queen Marie is ready to return to Roumania immediately, but transportation obstacles may delay her. The remainder of her American itinerary will be curtailed. It was undecided today whether she would set out for New York instantly and await the sailing of a suitable liner, or if she would carry out the schedule as far as Detroit, which would include a visit to Cincinnati.

The proposed trip of Princess Ileana and Prince Nicolas to the Army-Navy football game in Chicago November 27 was cancelled today.

Leave for New York

ABOARD QUEEN MARIE'S Special Train (at Louisville, Ky.,) Nov. 18.—Queen Marie of Roumania will leave tonight for New York city, cancelling all engagements in her American itinerary, it was officially announced today. Her majesty expects to arrive in New York about Saturday to await quietly the sailing of the liner Berengaria next Wednesday.

Due to alarming reports regarding King Ferdinand's health her majesty does not feel she is capable of fulfilling further engagements, the royal spokesman stated.

Queen Marie expressed her deep regrets to the American public for the sudden termination of her trip. While there will be no further programs in any city for her majesty, a trip to Detroit and Cleveland was being arranged for Prince Nicolas.

Your Home Should Come First

AMERICA... nation of homes. It is reported that 55% of our population own their own homes! This alone should prove that in America the home comes first. Pride of ownership in a home of one's own is quickly followed by pride in its furnishings, and whether you own your home or are just renting a home, flat, or an apartment, your home should come first, especially with respect to its furnishings!

SLEEPLESS NIGHTS
Often Caused by Bladder Weakness. It's Nature's Signal of "Danger Ahead".
A. C. Eckhart, 3917 St. Clair St., Cleveland, O., says, "After taking Lithiated Buchu tablets one week, the burning and smarting left me, and with no desire to get up nights. You should get the credit as I had tried many things. I will be glad to write my experience to any one. Lithiated Buchu cleanses the bladder as epsom salts do the bowels, driving out deposits, neutralizes excess acids, thereby relieving irritation that causes getting up nights. The tablets cost 2 cents each at all drug stores. Keller Laboratory, Mechanicsburg, O. Paisley's Pharmacy.

EAGER SHOPPERS THRONG STORES

Salesgirls Dread Bargain Days

Louisa was tired. From morning until night she had been on her feet in the busy department store. No matter how she felt, she must serve her customers with a smile. Her head throbbed and her feet ached. Week after week, she felt her strength ebbing until she was in a run-down condition, not fit to work.

"My mother suggested that I try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound," she writes. "I took only three bottles and it brought me about all right." Through the Vegetable Compound, she found better health to do her work and she told the other girls about it.

That was several years ago. Louisa is now Mrs. L. J. Van Dyke of 1246 Spring St., Morrell Park, Baltimore, Md. She is the mother of three healthy, active children. She says that she found the tonic effect of the Vegetable Compound helpful to her during this entire period.

Every working girl knows that to do her work properly and easily she must have good health. She can not afford to lose time from her work.

Girls who suffer from a run-down condition should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

DISAPPEARING "OPEN SPACES"

THIS country is only now awakening to the fact that the great open spaces are fast disappearing. The plains over which the forty-niners traveled with such difficulty and danger are cut up into ranches and farms and irrigation has converted the desert country into fertile gardens. The modern conception of the great open spaces is but a vestige of that which bore the name a half century ago.

As recently as two decades ago there was so much idle ground in the West that the government halted the slaughter of the buffalo for the double purpose of conserving this majestic beast of the plains and of putting the great open spaces into use.

The buffalo has been saved, for the present, from extinction but now the government discovers that, so rapidly have the bison multiplied and so sweeping have been man's encroachments upon their feeding grounds, there are now more bison than parking space for them.

In Utah the owner of a private herd has invited the public on a buffalo hunt. The bison supply is greater than the demand. Uncle Sam has a surplus supply which he is anxious to give away.

The open spaces are shrinking daily toward the vanishing point as they are being taken over by "dude ranches," fruit farms, cattle and sheep ranges, wheat farms, oil wells and bungalow colonies.

OUT OF THE BANQUET HALLS BY CHRISTMAS

WILL ROGERS sounds a catchy slogan for Queen Marie when he predicts that she will be "out of the banquet halls by Christmas." Indeed the tour of the royal visitor has been curtailed so that she may sail from the United States in time to reach Bucharest before the holidays. Passage had been booked on the Majestic, sailing from New York on December 11. (Press reports today indicate the queen will leave within the next week, the sailing date again being changed).

It would be interesting to know her honest-to-goodness opinion of the whole business. She has been treated with great courtesy and consideration and in return has said nothing but gracious things about her hosts and the United States. In a moment of confidence she is reported as having admitted that she has been dazed by the hurry and bustle in America. "You rush around so," she says, "and people are dragged through one's brain." It is easy to understand this feeling, and the wonder is that she has been able to stand the ordeal as well as she has.

It is a great pity that she has not been permitted to see the people and the country in a sane and normal fashion reflects the Philadelphia Inquirer. Jules Verne's hero who rushed around the world in eighty days at a time when our transportation facilities were much inferior to what they are today had a quiet and tranquil experience compared to what has been the fate of the Queen of Rumania in her attempt to view America on a fly-by-night tourist schedules.

RECENT DISCOVERIES ADD MYSTERY

ALTHOUGH it is always possible that traces of prehistoric man may be found on this continent antedating those discovered elsewhere in the world, the latest reported finds in Wyoming hold little promise of disproving the theory of anthropologists and archaeologists that man is a relatively recent settler here.

The mystery of the American Indian is still unsolved, despite the many important discoveries made by scientists in recent years. It is believed that his occupation of North America was relatively recent, as such years are reckoned, and yet it is probable that there were successive waves of migration before the coming of the white man.

It has been supposed that man first came to this continent from Asia by way of the Bering Strait and at a time when it is believed land connected the two continents. Recent discoveries support the new theory that the migration on this continent was not all from north to south. There are evidences of its spreading from Central America and Mexico northward.

For this latter reason the recent uncovering of jungle-buried cities in Central America is of greatest interest to archaeologists. In them may be found explanation of the origin of the American Indian.

Anyhow, man no longer has to gaze on the woman who made herself look like a wasp by wearing a tight-fitting corset.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 4:40. Sun rises tomorrow 6:52.

Might be safe to predict that the early part of this winter will be quite wet.

Harry Thaw is going to finance the defense of a lady who shot and killed a man. She had better keep eyes on Harry also if she wants to be well off.

A man was hit on the highway near Altoona while carrying some whisky in a hot water bag. Walking along the highways in these days of automobiles is dangerous enough without carrying any whisky either on the inside or outside.

Over in England they have what is called "the Dole System," This is the system that pays men when they are not working. In this country lots of men loaf without being paid for it.

Now it is predicted that the railroads of the future will use airplanes. Maybe if they do not have to use tracks they can keep the planes on their course.

A man at Uniontown, Pa., had his feet burned in hot sand so as to make him tell where his money was hidden when robbers attacked him. He could tell about the hot sands all right after that.

Rickets: A disease of infants that cause bow legs and the conviction that short skirts are immodest.

The only thing that has kept the people of Europe from indulging in automobiles as much as we have in America is the shortage of gasoline over there. It's up to some auto maker to invent some cheap auto fuel so our brothers and sisters in Europe can enjoy the automobile as much as we have in this country. It would make a hit all right.

If you marry, beware of the first quarrel—also the second, third and so on.

A Pittsburgh shiek gave as an excuse for stealing a flock of automobiles that the girls would not ride in street cars. He will not need a car for about nine months now as they only use patrol wagons where he will be.

The greatest trouble with the intoxicated motorist isn't so much, that he's full as it is that he's running over.

A lady told us yesterday that she was sitting in a public meeting a few nights ago when a woman who sat right back of her made a remark about every person who came in and she also knew just how long every woman had been wearing the coat she had on. Her stuff was not very entertaining.

Love that used to find a dark corner now picks out the hotel lobby or a couple of seats in the movie—it doesn't seem to care.

We hear there are some people in this city who do not pay the boys who deliver The News to them every day. This is not right. We would not take a great deal of money and have even a newsboy lose confidence in us. Pay the newsboy at least once a week. He is worth having the friendship of.

If women as they say, are all alike, why is bigamy?

We heard a man say the other day that he was in favor of building less stadiums and more insane asylumns. You probably know what he means as we never go to football games.

There are always a lot of people who are trying to pull something that does no one any good and a lot of people a lot of harm. Get off that stuff.

The city officials will either have to dispense with automobiles or the fire hydrants. There isn't room for both.

A few days ago we saw a picture of a little kid in a newspaper and it was told that the baby whistled when it was seven months old. We have a grandson who whistled when he was six months old and he is a smart kiddo being a namesake of ours of course.

We noticed a statement the other day which said that two Republican county commissioners and one Democratic commissioner had to be elected according to law. This is not correct. The Republicans could elect three county commissioners and the Democrats could also elect the whole board. Heretofore since Lawrence county has been overwhelmingly Republican it has been a courtesy extended to the Dems to give them one member of the board. Now that the county is Democratic, having all the offices worth while filled by Democrats, perhaps the Dems will not be as gracious and may try and elect a whole board of Dems which there is nothing to prevent them from doing.

It always seems to a new mayor that everybody is trying to think up something new to embarass him, and it always seems to an old mayer that he got out just in time. We did not think that when we were a new mayor, but we did think that when we got out.

Private interests never gain very much by shaking its fists under somebody's nose.

Surely farmers who have turkeys to sell will not complain about getting high enough a price for them. The wonder is that more farmers around here do not at least try to raise more turkeys. They are about the only thing raised on farms that are over priced.

It is said that no great successful business has ever been built up without newspaper advertising. There are a few who do a small busines without advertising, but could do many times more by advertising.

Some people go into a store and buy a loud speaker and others marry one.

The United States Public Health Service has issued a warning against circular garters that restrict circulation. They may hurt circulation, say the girls, but the advertising possibilities are there.

It's no consolation to say that the world runs wrong, when you're the one that's off the road.

Most lamb is sheep at any price, while venison, on the other hand, is always deer.

Some candidates are buried in landslides and others are drowned in slush funds.

Two trunks of clothes alleged to belong to Aimee McPherson have been found and we suppose it would be out of the road to say it was Aimee's pair of trunks.

Giving their reasons for stealing automobiles two young men told a Pittsburgh judge that the girls these days won't ride the street cars and to keep in the swim they had to have motors. But the reason, however good it sounded to the boys didn't affect the judge and he gave the boys a trip in an auto that had a big gong on it and it wasn't a fire wagon either. The boy who would go wrong for a girl is hardly a safe one for a girl to tie to. And on the other hand the girl who wants something beyond the capacity of her boy friends to give her is hardly a fit companion for a young boy.

The opening day of the hunting season in Ohio five men were taken for rabbits and shot to death. How the rabbits must have a good time wiggling their ears and smiling to themselves as they scamper through the woods unmolested.

Queen Marie has left Chicago on her way east and the whole country breathes a sigh of relief. The killing of a little known Prince started the world war, and God only knows what would have happened if the Chicago machine gunners had gotten busy during the Queen's visit.

Coal prices have already dropped considerable and those people who haven't filled the cellar are the ones who will benefit. Those who have their coal bins full won't have anything to worry them only the prices they had to pay for their winter fuel.

Mrs. Alwine P. Anhert of New York City has lost a $10,000 damage suit against the United States Cremation company. She alleges that the concern mixed the ashes of her first two husbands and now she can't tell them apart. And the worst of it is, her third husband has disappeared taking $6,000 with him. Evidently hubby No. 3 wasn't taking any chances.

County commissioners and members of the Public Service Commission of the state along with the various engineers interested are considering the Wampum bridge and may make a location for it soon. This is one bridge that is vitally needed just as soon as it can be erected for the old one is so far out of date and not too safe. The speedy erection of a new bridge is what is wanted.

At a high school party down the valley two deodorized skunks were the principal guests in order to give the party a kick. But the little animals had been robbed of all their pep and acted like little kittens. A good deal like an old man on his good behavior.

To Harness the Moon.
They'll Believe Foch.
Spending $250,000,000.
Mussolini's Power.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1926, by N. Y. American, Inc.

Prof. George Claude of Paris, inventor of synthetic ammonia and a serious scientist tells the French Academy of Science that he has found a cheap, efficient way to harness the ocean tide power.

It is a complicated process depending on a utilization of the ocean's temperatures varying at different depths. The main thing is that such an invention would supply the one thing that men need above all others, power unlimited, cheap and forever.

* * *

When you harness the tides you really harness the power of the moon that with its constant pull of gravity, raises and lowers the ocean's water. Whether men are far enough advanced to deserve free power, use it well and not be made lazy by it remains to be seen.

There arises a question of veracity between Marshal Foch and the King of Belgium. Foch says he persuaded King Albert not let the Belgians retreat from the Yser. It is a fact that the king issued a proclamation making any suggestion of retreat treason.

* * *

The king says Foch had nothing to do with it. The general public will trust to Foch's memory. Kings have a license to forget that is not permitted to commoners. Anyhow, but for Foch and his management of the war there wouldn't be any King Albert. Some young Hohenzollern would be sitting on the Belgian throne nicely over-stuffed, to make it comfortable for him.

The treasury surplus this year will be far above $250,000,000, thanks to good management of President Coolidge and Mr. Mellon. And if you are an income tax payer on a fairly big scale it means good news to you a rebate of as much as 15 percent on what you paid last year.

* * *

Perhaps a way to spend the $250,000,000 could be found better than giving it back. Part of that money would put this nation's fighting air fleet ahead of all others. At present we have none.

Part of the money would connect the Great Lakes with the gulf by a canal through the Mississippi valley.

* * *

Much could be done with all or part of the $250,000,000 more romantic and exciting than giving it back.

But nothing probably could be done that would suit better those that will get the money.

Once the Greeks of ancient days voted on this proposition: "Shall a very large sum be divided among the free citizens of Athens or shall the money be used for the national defense?

The Greeks voted the money away from their own pockets to national defense. But they were old fashioned people.

In Day's News

Probably no Englishman of this generation has done more to foster and develop the art of music than has Sir Thomas Beecham, who, according to report from London, contemplates becoming an American citizen, being in despair over England's musical future because of the spread of radio. Sir Thomas, whose family millions came from the manufacture of pills and the world-wide advertising thereof, decided upon a musical career after graduating from Oxford. After several years in the provinces he went to London and organized a symphony orchestra. Four years later he took Covent Garden theatre and gave a fine series of old and new operas, which was followed by a season of light opera at His Majesty's theatre. It was Sir Thomas, too, who introduced to London the famous Russian opera and ballet which has since enjoyed remarkable success on both sides of the Atlantic.

Dr. Crane's Editorial

FLATTERY

Do not be afraid of being a flatterer.

Accustom yourself to the habit of saying pleasant things to people and about people. For it is largely a matter of habit.

One can easily slip into the way of making disagreeable and cutting remarks to people, or saying them about people, and making trouble.

It is well to be genuine and honest and all that sort of thing, but you don't have to be disagreeable to be sincere.

There are pleasant things about every person. Nobody is wholly wrong, and if you look long enough you can find something good in everybody.

Make it a point to know these good things and speak of them.

Everybody likes a bit of flattery. If a man says he does not like it a sure way to flatter him is to tell him that he can't be flattered.

Of course flattery does not want to be laid on too thick. Then it defeats its purpose. You have to use judgment in this matter as in all matters, but it is well to get into the way of saying pleasant things about folks, just as it is well to form the habit of entertaining pleasant thoughts.

There are agreeable and disagreeable things in this world. There are beautiful and there are ugly sights. It all depends upon which way you face. Look toward the beautiful things and search out the agreeable things. This will have a reflex influence upon your state of mind and character and also do much toward increasing your popularity and holding your friendships.

Many a marriage has been saved by a steady and persistent resolve to say only pleasant things, and more marriages have been wrecked than we like to think by a habit of persistent fault-finding and criticism.

Today's Storyette.

A young French alienist was showing his father through the asylum in which he was employed. Pointing to a solemn looking individual, he said: "That man thinks he is Louise XVI." The young man's father was interested in such cases and he said he would speak to the unfortunate privately; perhaps he could help cure his delusion. He went over and held the man in conversation for 15 minutes.

When he returned he said: "He is getting along much better now he thinks he is only Louis XIV."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

HOCH DER BANANA!

Germany furnishes a fresh cause for surprise every little while. It is restrained from having a large standing army by the terms of the Treaty of Peace, and the people have gone back to work. The Germans work with their accustomed thoroughness. They are not worried about hours, and seem to be reasonably satisfied with enough wage to maintain life for the present. The Bolsheviki make little impression upon them.

When people are at work, and thoroughly at work, they very quickly recover from their troubles, and the Germans are no exception to this rule. They are not only now acquiring sufficient to maintain life, but they are earning enough to spend something for luxuries. Among these luxuries are bananas. Even before the War, Germans regarded bananas a decided luxury. The quality of bananas which the German people consumed was practically negligible. The banana plantations of the world are principally owned and controlled by Americans who believe in advertising, and these enterprising banana planters have been advertising bananas in Germany.

The Department of Commerce of the United States has been informed by Lee C. Morse, Assistant Trade Commissioner at Berlin, of the great improvement in the demand for bananas in Germany. Morse goes on to say in his report that the Germans are acquiring a marked taste for bananas. During the first six months of 1926, banana imports to Germany were 31,117 tons, which was an increase of 13,234 tons over the corresponding period of 1925, and 20,885 tons over the first six months of 1924. It will therefore be seen that Germany did not eat bananas to speak of in the old days. Schwartzbrod frankfurters, beer, and pretzels have represented the tastes of Germans for necessities as well as luxuries for a long time, but now the Germans are consuming bananas! Hoch der Banana!

Just Folks

"SUCH GOINGS ON"

They park their cars in dark and lonely places
Where passers see their forms but not their faces
And, let it rain or let the cold wind blow,
Love laughs at summer showers and winter's snow,
While crabbed age, forgetting all that's gone,
Would have a law to stop such "goings on."

"Such goings on," with Eve and Adam first began,
"Such goings on" have marked the trail of man,
Down through the ages all the shady trees
Have lent their friendship to such scenes as these.
The world has changed and suffered countless pains,
But the sweet thrill of kissing still remains.

Oh, crabbed age, which sees them in the park,
Finds them on lanes and roadways after dark,
Recall the horse and buggy days when you
Stopped at the roadside for a kiss or two;
The vehicle has altereded but the game
Of making love is very much the same.

And when a thousand years have rolled along,
With all that men shall learn of right and wrong,
And all that men shall conquer with their skill,
Water will run as usual down the hill,
And youth as usual will be frowned upon
By crabbed age that sees "such goings on."

POEMS HOVE

BY CHARLES HANSON TOWNE

"God's Garden," by Richard Burton

Dr. Burton is an American poet now teaching in a western university. Many of his lyrics have a strong appeal for me. I remember his "Black Sheep," as a powerful poem; and the delicacy and fragrance of a verse like this are things to be grateful for. An anthology composed entirely of garden poetry could be edited, with selections from practically every poet from Shakespeare down. It goes without saying that the beauty of gardens, their peace and loveliness, have been an inspiration to sensitive spirits, always.

The years are flowers and bloom within
Eternity's wide garden;
The rose for joy, the thorn for sin,
The gardener, God, to pardon
All willing growths, to prune, reclaim,
And make them rose-like in His name.

Counterfeit Money Is Destroyed By Officials

Counterfeit Money To Value Of $500,000 Burned By Treasury Officers

Stamp Machines, Printing Presses And Vats Go Under Axe

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Counterfeit money of over $500,000 face value captured by the United States secret service in the last year, has been destroyed by the treasury, it was announced today.

More than two tons of printing presses, paper, vats and other miscellaneous paraphernalia confiscated by government agents in all parts of the country went under the official axe.

Captured money consisted of a half million dollars worth of spurious notes and about 20,000 counterfeit coins, the whole constituting one of the largest annual hauls made by the government in recent years.

Several important counterfeiting plots were unearthed. Among the most outstanding was that culminating in the trial of several men at Cleveland, charged with making spurious war saving stamps. The plot extended to Chicago and Pittsburgh. Most of those involved were tried. Another big plot was also discovered in Cleveland and arrests in this are still going on.

Chief W. H. Moran of the secret service said that indirectly prohibition has increased counterfeiting. Some of the large captures made in the last year have been counterfeiting plants engaged in the production of "money" especially for use in purchasing liquor.

The state's star witness came at her own volition and against the advice of her doctors.

Village Is Fire Swept; Loss $50,000

(International News Service)

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 18.—Fire which for a time threatened to wipe out the village of Springhill near here early today destroyed the mill, warehouse and offices of the Springhill Supply company, the community's largest enterprise. The loss was estimated at $50,000.

Howard Connors of South Charleston, a volunter fireman suffered serious burns when a can of gasoline exploded and flames spread rapidly to the roof of the mill upon which he was standing. He was taken to a local hospital.

A high wind carried flames to half a dozen nearby cotages and firemen battled desperately to prevent a general conflagration. Damage to the cottages was slight.

JOHN S. FARR GIVEN PROMOTION

Made Division Commercial Superintendent Of Bell Company In Philadelphia

John S. Farr of Euclid avenue, widely known official of the Bell Telephone Company, and resident of this city since 1914, when he first came here as chief clerk in the plant department of the Bell Telephone Company in the New Castle district, has just been made division commercial superintendent for the Bell Company in the Philadelphia district, which is the largest in the state.

This promotion comes in recognition of his services rendered in the several important capacities for the Bell Telephone company which he has held in New Castle and Pittsburgh since first locating here. It comes as pleasing news to his many friends here, who, while regretting his departure from the city, are pleased at his advancement to one of the most important positions in the state.

The Philadelphia district has 340,000 stations or telephones, and is one of the largest groups of telephone users in the United States.

Mr. Farr, after serving as chief clerk in the plant department here for a number of years, was made local manager in 1918. His success in that capacity resulted in his advancement to the post of commercial superintendent of western Pennsylvania, with headquarters in Pittsburgh, in 1923. He was enabled, however, to continue his residence here. He has been connected with the Bell Telephone Company since 1911.

He will assume his new duties at Philadelphia on December 1. It necessitates his leaving the city. Mrs. Farr will follow about the first of the year.

During his residence here Mr. Farr has been active in civic and social circles of the city, being connected with the Rotary Club and the New Castle Field Club. He has also served as vestryman of Trinity Episcopal church for the past five years, presenting his resignation last night. He has announced his regret at finding it necessary to leave the city, where his associations have been most pleasant.

Miller Explains Tax Suggestion

Perry Highway Committee Has Not Approved Four Cent Tax Suggestion

Hiram G. Miller, local businessman, former councilman and a Perry highway sponsor, today in an interview denied that the highway committee sponsored or approved a suggestion made by a highway booster that to cover the cost of building the highway a tax of four cents be added to the price of gasoline.

"During the meeting," said Miller to a News reporter, "a Mr. Dight, a speaker, in his anxiety to boost the highway, figured away ahead in speciating as to where the expense could be met, offered a suggestion that four cents be added as a tax to each gallon of gasoline. The committee did not sponsor this suggestion nor approve it", said Miller.

Mr. Dight, however, added Miller, suggested the cutting of the annual license tag cost from the present price of $10 to $3 and the four cents tax, figuring each motorist of a pleasure car uses 200 gallons a year, would put the total cost at $11, one dollar additional than now paid.

Voluntary Chapel Proving Success

Chapel Attendance At Yale University Increases Under New Plan

YALE CAMPAIGNS FOR HUGE SUM

(International News Service)

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 18.—Harvard's had an average attendance of 110 persons at its voluntary chapel services since October, 1886, while Yale with voluntary chapel a month old has been getting congregations ranging from 160 to 325 persons. "Certainly the predictions of the pessmists haven't been fulfilled" says Rev. Dr. Henry Hallam Tweedy, head of the new chapel plan one month after the plan went into effect.

There were croakers abroad when Yale announced that the 229-year-old-voluntary chapel was to be abolished. After a month's trial Dr. Tweedy reports a "better filled auditorium than in most city churches" faces him every day in Battel chapel, Yale, which can seat 1200 individuals.

Harvard has kept a deliberate record of chapel attendance since 1886 and Yale started a similar record on October 1, 1926, jotting down the state of weather along with the count. Queerly enough the low attendance came on a perfectly clear day.

But small attendance doesn't bother Dr. Tweedy, a noted professor in Yale divinity school. The spirit of the congregation is more than its numbers, he insists in reporting to his superiors. Three hundred sing with more spirit and better harmony than twelve hundred used to sing in the compulsory days.

And now Dr. Tweedy is trying to get students from other departments of the university to take in the daily services. So he announces the days are real gone when a person can say that while religion is good for a bachelor of arts, the bachelor of science is out of place in a religious atmosphere.

That grew out of the fact that the founder of Sheffield Scientific School insisted its students should not be compelled to go to church.

In opening a hunt for $20,000,000 Yale authorities declare they aren't seeking to get more students in Yale, but are merely trying to make Yale a better place for those already enrolled as students. Yale is a fairly small institution as Universities go, and her greatest annual task seems to be selecting those who desire to become "Yale men." The university, this year, has an attendance of 5,157, which is a fair number to handle.

Yale's attendance is divided thus: Freshman year 880; college, 1,543; scientific school 707; graduate school 669; art school 368; Divinity school 220; law school 414; medical school 208; school of nursing 42; forestry school 42; music school 119.

In its formal announcement of attendance, issued on November 10, is the statement "the school of fine arts has reached its limit, having 368 students." Professor George Pierce Baker's school of the drama which now is hitched onto the art school as a department, has 103 students working in a million-dollar plant learning to do all the things the theatre demands of its wage earners, whether they be managers, producers, or stage hands. There are 141 persons studying painting in the art school, and laying the foundations for a real artist colony in New Haven. Then there are 105 potential architects and 19 learning the sculptor's work.

All these students except those of the drama department, appear to be keeping one eye on the enormous plant being erected for the art school's priceless collections of pictures. When that is done the school will have a real plant, one of which Yale may boast loudly and not be very far wrong as to its claims. When Yale gets through with her art school a new law school is expected to be started.

Yale University's budget for the past year totaled $4,573,441.85. To meet the budget Yale had an endowment fund totaling $45,603,713. Deficit stared Yale in the face. Alumni came to the rescue and furnished enough money so that Yale could have an additional $326,586 and thus balance her budget.

During the college year that started in October, 1925, and ended in June, 1926, Yale received a total of $4,747,895in gifts and bequests.

So much for cold figures. In reporting all this to her alumni Yale said that her investments in stocks and bonds has increased its average yield about one-half of one per cent in the last ten years. In 1916 the average yield from stocks and bonds was 4.9 per cent; in 1926 it was 5.39 per cent. The average yield on all the university's investments is 5.27 per cent.

Unscented— as every Beauty soap should be

And why should a Beauty Soap be unscented? An artificial scent is irritating to the skin. Chic women of course know that a soap-scent confuses the fragrance of the perfume they choose for their toilette.

Often, too, an artificial scent is used to "cover up" the odor of ingredients. Can you imagine any other rational purpose in scenting a toilet soap?

Doña Castile of course is unscented, fragrant as it is with the warm exquisite odor that pure olive oil gives it—but an odor that leaves no trace on the skin.

Utter purity, utter blandness—that is what Castile has always meant. The artless craftsmen of Castilla (where Castile was first made six hundred years ago) were concerned only to make a matchless Beauty Soap for the gorgeous complexions of the golden daughters of Spain; and so they make it today.

And we have retained the pure blandness of this old Castile, but in making Doña for you we have added these virtues!

Instant lather, even in cold water—and instant rinsing! A cake molded beautifully for your hand, in a charming dress. An exquisite Castile! Too, Doña is "hard-milled," firm, it will last. You will say—"The most delicious of all Beauty Soaps!" Buy Doña anywhere. Armour, U. S. A.

RHEUMATISM!

What Is It—anyway?

THAT awful agony of swollen joints and inflamed muscles—that miserable pain and torturous suffering, we call rheumatism—what is it?

Here's what it is: It is the result of waste products and impurities in the blood! Impurities that get the upper hand because the system is starving for want of healthy, rich, red blood!

But you just cleanse your blood and build up the red-blood-cells and watch the rheumatism vanish! Why, S. S. S. will aid Nature put so many millions of red-blood-cells in your system that the impurities that cause your rheumatism are driven out—they can't stand pure, healthy blood.

S.S.S. conquers rheumatism! The rich, red, fighting blood that S. S. S. helps Nature build brings ease and comfort to every sore, swollen tissue in your body.

And this great S. S. S. goes right on helping Nature build more and more red cells until your whole body is tingling with life and vibrating with vim, vigor and vitality. You feel like yourself again.

How To Reduce Varicose Veins

Rub Gently and Upward Toward the Heart as Blood in Veins Flows That Way.

Many people have become despondent because they have been led to believe that there is no remedy that will reduce swollen veins and bunches.

If you will get a two-ounce original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength) at any first-class drug store and apply it night and morning as directed you will quickly notice an improvement which will continue until the veins and bunches are reduced to normal.

Moone's Emerald Oil is a harmless, yet most powerful germicide and two ounces last a very long time. Indeed, so powerful is Emerald Oil that old chronic cases of Piles are often entirely absorbed and anyone who is disappointed with its use can have their money refunded. Two Beaver County Residents Are Hurt In Auto Mishaps

(International News Service)
BEAVER, Pa., Nov. 18.—J. M. Hume, 50, of West Bridgewater, chief of the Beaver Valley Traction company police, and Thomas Garvin, 38, of Beaver, were in Rochester General hospital today suffering from injuries sustained in two automobile accidents here late yesterday.

Garvin suffered two broken ribs when the car in which he was towing another automobile was struck by a street car.

Hume, having heard of the accident, was on the way to the scene when his car sideswiped another at an intersection, and his machine crashed into a curbing and was demolished. Hume suffered laceration about the head.

Vatican Remains Silent On Suit For Annulment

(International News Service)
ROME Nov. 18.—While the vatican still maintains silence regarding the action of the Rota tribunal in annulling the marriage of the Duke of Marlborough and Consuelo Vanderbilt a report was current today that the case may not be closed yet.

It was learned that Count Sacconi and Commedatoro Ferrata, who acted as counsel for defense and opposed the annulment before the Rota tribunal presented evidence of a most delicate nature.

In some circles it was reported that the Duke of Marlborough had asked for a hearing in the matter.

SCHOOL RINGS?

The old old question has returned to the High School. It is "shall we have a school ring?" Ever since the start of getting class rings, the students have been debating the matter. This year it looks like the decision will be affirmative. A committee has been selected to consider a school ring.

This committee is made up of the following:

Harriet Truby, May Gibson, Bob Weingartner, Paul Palmer, Bob Millison, Jack Houston, Harold Burton, Bob Turner, Harold Sankey, Gertrude Potter, Margaret Zimmerly, Evelyn Thayer, Travis French, Mary Shannon, Alice Gumes, Dick Bartley, Virginia Duff, Lois Davenport, Harriet Beadel, Harold Guy, James Frank, Ransford Riddle, Mary McGhehan, Rebecca Gwin, Margaret Warner, Helen Furst, Sylvia Allen, Virginia Reeher, Margaret Shaffer, Bob McKenzie, Helen McBride.

MODERN GEOGRAPHY CLASS

At the school we have a co-operating Weather Bureau operated by the students of the science department. Every morning at eight o'clock, two students read the weather forecast.

The apparatus is situated on the roof of the school. It consists of a weather cage, two thermometers and a rain guage. The thermometers are housed in the cage for protection. One of these thermometers is called the maximum, and the other the minimum. The maximum is used to measure the highest temperature, and the minimum to register the lowest that was reached, that is in the twenty-four hours between readings. The difference between the highest and the lowest temperature reached is called the range. This is recorded by the observers.

The rain guage is a tube two inches in diameter and twenty inches deep. All the precipitation is caught in this guage and then measured. For every ten inches in this only one inch is counted as actual rainfall.

The observers then take the direction of the wind, the kind of clouds present and character of the day. This is then recorded on a co-operative observers' meteorological record, furnished by the United States Weather Bureau. This record is posted in the halls of the school every morning for the benefit of those students interested.

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT
Physics

The past few weeks finds this department making many and varied investigations on the field of determining specific gravity of different substances.

At this time of the year an explanation of the process and its application will be extremely profitable to the many car owners.

All material that has weight is either lighter or heavier than an equal bulk of water. To find the specific gravity of a liquid, is to divide the weight of a certain volume of the desired material, by an equal volume of pure water. This gives a concrete number, called its specific gravity. Now to do this on a commercial scale would be out of the question, so an instrument called a bulb hydrometer was made to do the work.

Gasoline is made by heating crude petroleum, under steam pressure in huge vats and condensing the vapor that boils off. The quality of this automotive fuel is largely valued at its gravity. A good grade, commonly called "high test" has a gravity running from 68 to 70. The general run of motor gas for summer consumption has a reading of about 62 to 64. Kerosene has a low gravity reading and consequently cannot be used as a rapid combustion fuel.

The quantity of denatured alcohol that father puts in his radiator, (I mean his car radiator), depends o nthe gravity of the resulting mixture.

Thus, this little calculation, has become to mean a great utility to the industrial enterprises, and incidentally we are learning all this in the laboratory of our school.

—By Frederick Clemens.

Club Membership Stock Untaxable

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Payments made to golf, social, athletic or sporting clubs for stock or membership certificates are not subject to a ten per cent tax, the United States court of claims ruled in a test case brought by the Alliance Country club of Alliance, Neb.

Heretofore the treasury has exacted the tax by construing the term "initiation fee" to include payments for stocks in clubs.

Investments in club stock which may be repaid to the purchaser, cannot be construed as an initiation fee the court held.

Clubs are now entitled to bring suit on behalf of members to recover taxes erroneously or iliegally collected.

Denies Both

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—"The story is silly—there is no truth in it."

So said Marilyn Miller today when questioned concerning reports that she is to divorce Jack Pickford, movie star to marry Ben Lyon, also a movie star.

Miss Miller said her denial applied to "both angles" of the story—the report that there will be a divorce, the rumor that she will become the bride of Ben Lyon.

Artificial Coal At Lower Prices

Artificial Anthracite Coal Of Good Quality Is Cheaper

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 18.—An artificial anthracite coal of good quality sold at a lower price than anthracite and available in ample quantity offers a solution of the smoke problem, C. V. McIntire, of Fairmont, W. Va., fuel expert, today told the International conference on bituminous coal at its closing session here.

Employing Nature's methods an experimental station at Fairmont operated by the Consolidation Coal company successfully converted a smoky bituminous coal into a smokeless artificial anthracite, McIntire said, by reducing the volatile portions and increasing the density.

"Nature formed anthracite by subjecting the soft coal to heat and pressure" said McIntire. "The Fairmont plant first treats the coal by low temperature carbonization then takes the semi-coke residue and forms it into briquettes by means of pressure and finally reheats the briquettes to render them dense and smokeless.'

Postpone Flight Of Giant Planes

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 18.—The flight of the two giant navy planes to Hampton Roads, Va., from the navy yards here for the start of the flight to Pan-America was postponed today on account of unfavorable weather conditions over Chesapeake Bay.

The planes are all ready for the take-off and will leave here tomorrow if weather conditions are favorable.

"MYSTERY GRAVE" AT POLK PROVES SILICA TEST BORING

OIL CITY, Pa., Nov. 18.—Explorations of the "mystery grave" at Polk have stopped and the authorities are in a dispute as to which branch of the county government should pay the expense of the digging. It is believed that the hole in the ground which resembled a newly made grave was a sounding made by a company looking for silica sand. Similar holes have been found in other portions of the county, where silica strat exist.

WORLD'S TONIC GOOD HEALTH INSURANCE FOR JOHN SADDLER

YOUNGSTOWN MAN TESTIFIES THAT RELIEF FROM STOMACH TROUBLE WAS PERMANENT

Well known insurance agent of Youngstown, is among the hundreds of people who have derived both immediate and lasting good from the World's Tonic treatment.

"I could not say a better thing for World's Tonic" says Mr. Saddler "than that I am still enjoying good health it brought me two years ago. I had suffered from stomach trouble, having frequent attacks of gastritis for years. At these times my stomach would fill with gas and keep me in pain and misery for hours.

"In this condition food seemed to do me very little good, as my strength gradually failed, nerves weakened, I could not sleep well and felt tired out most of the time. World's Tonic relieved my trouble in almost no time and left me eating, sleeping and feeling fine. World's Tonic gave me new strength, new energy and endurance that enables me to walk many miles a day and scarcely feel it."

World's Tonic is for sale by McKee's Cut Rate, Smith's, Paisley's, and Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., and all other good drug stores, accept no substitute.

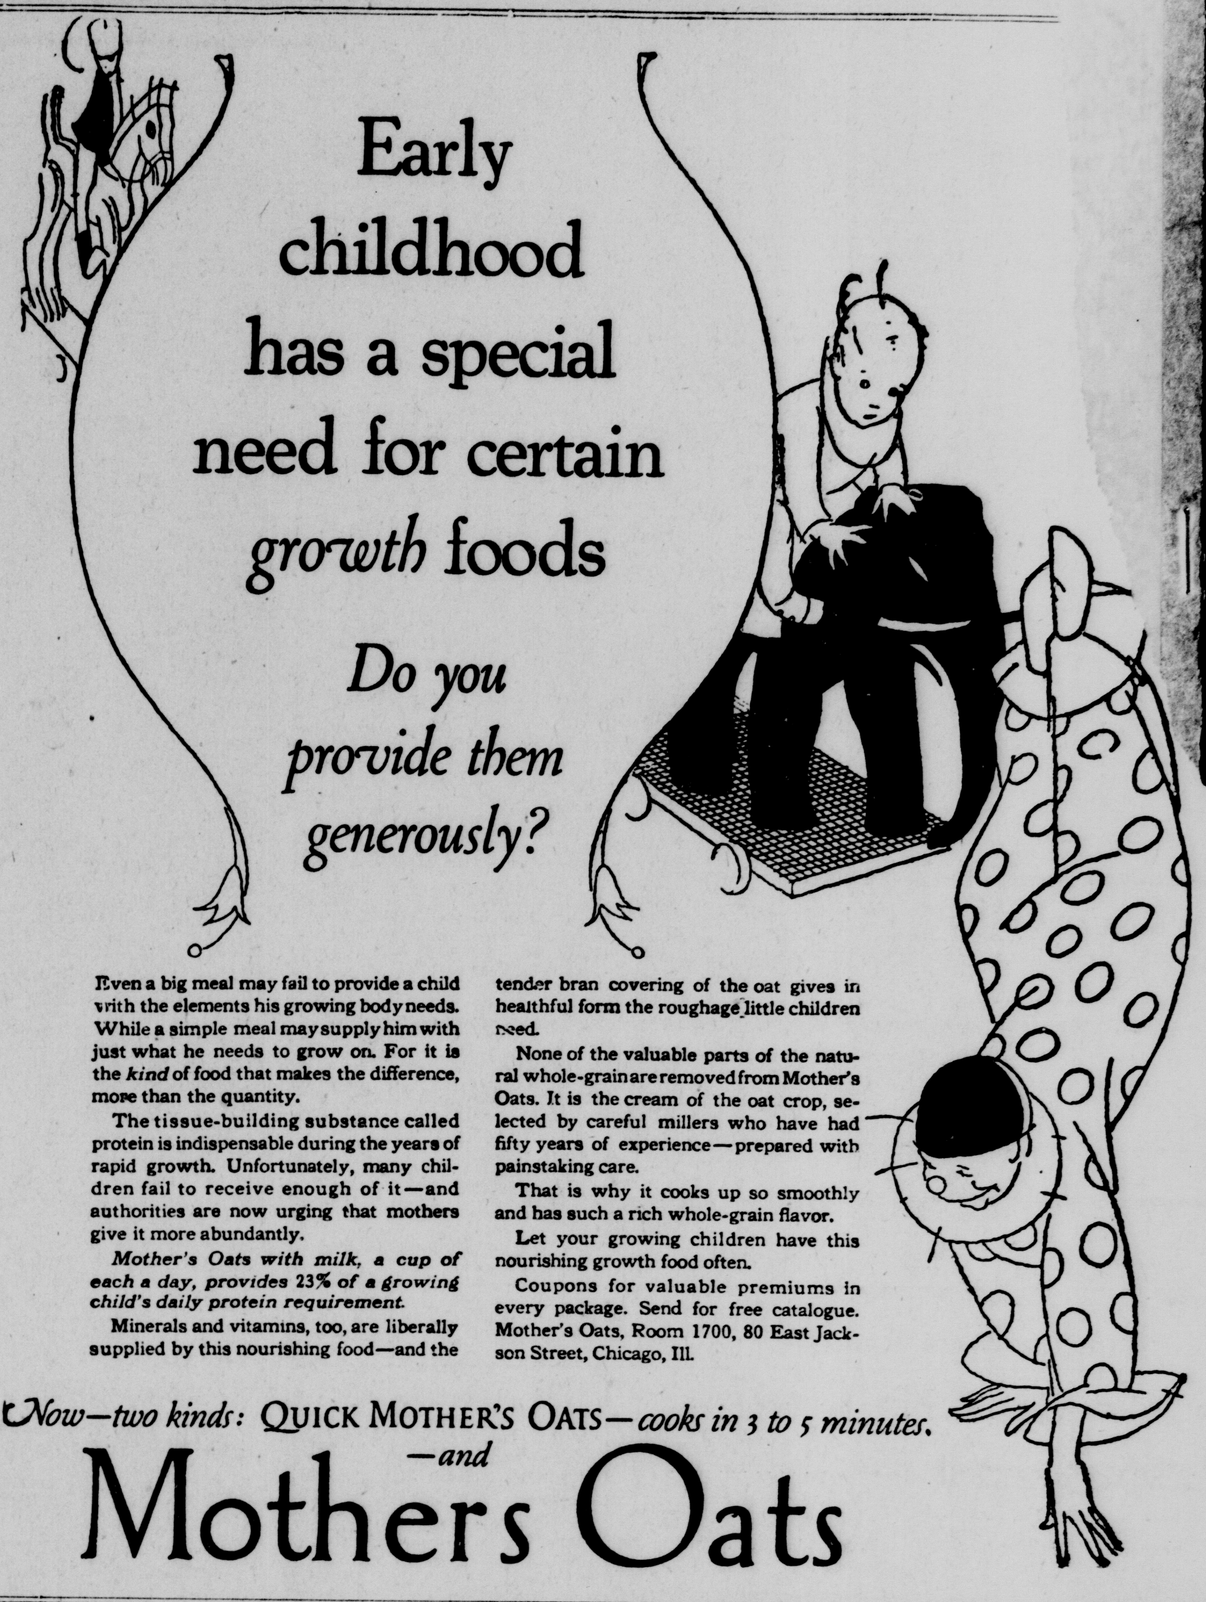
Early childhood has a special need for certain growth foods

Do you provide them generously?



Even a big meal may fail to provide a child with the elements his growing body needs. While a simple meal may supply him with just what he needs to grow on. For it is the kind of food that makes the difference, more than the quantity.

The tissue-building substance called protein is indispensable during the years of rapid growth. Unfortunately, many children fail to receive enough of it—and authorities are now urging that mothers give it more abundantly.

Mother's Oats with milk, a cup of each a day, provides 23% of a growing child's daily protein requirement.

Minerals and vitamins, too, are liberally supplied by this nourishing food—and the tender bran covering of the oat gives in healthful form the roughage little children need.

None of the valuable parts of the natural whole-grain are removed from Mother's Oats. It is the cream of the oat crop, selected by careful millers who have had fifty years of experience—prepared with painstaking care.

That is why it cooks up so smoothly and has such a rich whole-grain flavor.

Let your growing children have this nourishing growth food often.

Edna Wallace Hopper Coming to the Penn

To the Citizens of New Castle and Lawrence County:

The Penn Theatre takes pleasure in announcing that it has secured Edna Wallace Hopper, the Eternal Flapper, for a three day engagement on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, December 2, 3 and 4. Miss Hopper will appear daily at the Penn Theatre and will expose to the world the secrets by which she has been able to cheat Father Time and at 62 years has all the appearance and spirit of a flapper of 19. It is not a lecture or a testimonial for beauty creams, but a revelation to everyone, for what Miss Hopper has done every woman can do.

The personal appearance of Edna Wallace Hopper in a city the size of New Castle was accomplished only after many difficulties, and at tremendous expense and through the much urging, the Penn can announce that Miss Hopper will appear also for matinee performances. So great is the desire to see Miss Hopper that all the evening shows will be crowded. The Penn Theatre urges all the ladies and men too if possible to make their arrangements to attend the afternoon appearances. By doing so this will insure comfortable seating. Mark these dates on your calendar December 2, 3 and 4 and don't miss seeing Miss Edna Wallace Hopper.

State Dog Law Being Enforced

Nearly 9,000 Licenses Are Issued In Mercer County In 1926

OTHER NEWS NOTES OF MERCER COUNTY

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Pa., Nov. 18.—That the state is vigorously enforcing the law that requires the licensing of all canines is proven by the increased number of licenses each year. An increase of 913 licenses over 1925 were written in Mercer county for 1926, the comparative figures would show, with 8,050 for 1925, and 8,963 in 1926. Tags and licenses will arrive soon for the 1927 issue, it is announced at the county treasurer's office, where they will begin writing the 1927 licenses by December 15th of this year.

The number of arrests in the county last year for failure to license their dogs was productive of purchases this year. T. B. Streams the state agent in this territory, has been succeeded by Harry Higbee of Stoneboro.

Joan of Arc, an oratorio, will be sung by a chorus of 50 voices recruited from the church choirs and music club of Mercer at an early date in January. Rehearsals are being held each Tuesday night under the direction of Dr. L. H. Barnes of Meadville. The oratorio will be sung in the courthouse assembly room, it is announced. In addition to the adults mentioned there will be a supplemental chorus of 50 voices drawn from the public schools used in connection with the rendition.

It was originally planned to have the affair about Christmas time. This is given up because the time is too short in which to make ready. The cantata given by the same chorus last year will not be forgotten by those who heard it.

A meeting of the committee of cattlemen who conduct the affairs of the Baby Beef Club of Mercer county is called into session for Thursday evening at the Farm Bureau office.

The arranging for the date of sale of 50 head of beef cattle will take place at that time. The club conducts a sale of baby beef for the Christmas market early in December each year. The club is the first of its kind to be organized in the state and is one of the few in the East. Cattle taken at birth and force fed for 12 months are auctioned off to the highest bidder, is the plan of operation.

Purchase and payment under the law do not constitute ownership if the title does not follow, is a principle of law proven to the regret of a number of Mercer county folks who bought cattle, farm products and household furnishings of recent date from May and John Campbell, residents of a Hickory township farm.

The court today signed an order granting the sale of animals and goods sold off this farm, regardless of the previous sale, to satisfy the claim of W. H. Collers of Sharon. It is said that at the time of the sale of the stuff a levy was imposed. The farm on which the Campbells lived was leased from Coller, who issued on his lease to collect rent. Execution of this instrument was stayed by the payment of a portion of the amount. It was then that the Campbells conducted their sale, prefacing their leaving. The folks who purchased their stuff and got stung will have recourse at law if they can find them.

Bolts of steel in number, but only one lock describes the equipment that is being proposed for the Mercer county jail by the Van Doren Iron Company of Cleveland, who have a crew here working. There will be just one key, that for the lock box which will be located at the front of the cell tiers. The hairpin lock expert who walks out as fast as locked up will have no place to work his trade here, for the purpose is to provide no locks to pick. The cells are locked by a lever shift in the box mentioned. It is the same system in the new Chicago prison of 1,800 cells. The work is being rushed by Harry Van Bogart, foreman, to have the upper tiers ready for occupancy by the first of December.

Miss Mary McLaughry will coach the girls' basketball team of Mercer High. Miss McLaughry, instructor in music at the school, is the sister of De'Ormand (Tuss) McLaughry, the coaching sensation of the East at Brown University, where his team has made a remarkable record in football. Miss McLaughry takes a keen interest in all sports and the Mercer girls are fortunate in securing her services.

Agreement Reached In Damage Case

Verdict by agreement for $4,500 in favor of the plaintiff was taken at court today in the case of Essie H. Williams and others against the Mahoning State Line Railroad Company. Plaintiffs own a farm of 125 acres in North Beaver and Mahoning townships. It is underlaid with limestone.

The railroad company ran a line through the farm, taking about 4 1-2 acres. It was alleged that the limestone could not be mined from under this strip and that the plaintiffs were damaged to the extent of $10,000.

Activities At St. Paul's Church

Meeting of the Senior Luther league of St. Paul's Lutheran church will take place this evening in the church at 7:30. On Friday evening there will be a meeting of all men and women who will assist in the Every Member canvass campaign.

There will be a special meeting of the congregation on Sunday morning after the German service.

Gives Advice to Expectant Mothers

"I ADVISE all expectant mothers to use Mother's Friend," writes Mrs. Wesley Miller, Hudson, Mich. "I have had nine children. With my first three I suffered for 24 hours. Beginning with the fourth I used Mother's Friend and was sick only 15 minutes. Since then I have had five and was only sick about 10 minutes with each."

Mother's Friend is the formula of an eminent physician and has been a positive blessing to thousands of expectant mothers for over three generations. Used daily, externally, it soothes the nerves and muscles as month follows month. Finally it makes childbirth a joy!

The mothers who praise Mother's Friend the most are those who did not use it with their first baby but through its use with the second, were able to realize its almost unbelievable results.

Mother! Insist on Mother's Friend—the same as used by our mothers and grandmothers—don't wait—start using tonight—and meanwhile write Bradfield Regulator Co., Dept. 84, Atlanta, Ga., for free valuable booklet "Motherhood and the Coming Baby" (sent in plain envelope). It tells how Mother's Friend can help you during expectancy and at childbirth. This booklet also tells you many other things you want to know. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all druggists —everywhere.

Seventh Ward News

Union Service On Thanksgiving Day

Thanksgiving Service Union Service —Other News Of Seventh Ward

In accordance with custom of the past several years, a Union Thanksgiving church service will be held on Thanksgiving Day, Thursday, November 25, in the Seventh Ward. The churches are co-operating in this union service and are the Mahoning Methodist, Mahoning Presbyterian and the Madison Avenue Christian churches.

This year the union service will be held in the Mahoning Presbyterian church at 10 o'clock Thanksgiving morning. Rev. J. N. Croxall, pastor of the Mahoning Methodist church, will preach.

This custom of the union Thanksgiving service has been carried out for a number of years. With the service being held turn about in the churches and three pastors taking their turn in preaching the sermon. Last year the service was in the Methodist church and Rev. W. W. Sniff, pastor of the Christian church, preached. The year preceding the service was in the Christian and Rev. Schnebly preached.

MAHONING BOOK CLUB

Mrs. R. W. Hamilton was hostess to the members of the Mahoning Book Club in her home on West Madison avenue Wednesday afternoon. Thirteen members were present. Special guests included Mrs. J. J. Cunningham, Mrs. A. R. Cooper, Mrs. W. F. McClurg and Mrs. C. H. Willey. During the afternoon the hours were spent with fancywork, social chat and the exchange of books. At a seasonable hour delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Hamilton, assisted by Mrs. McClurg and Mrs. Leland Hamilton.

The next meeting will be Thursday, Dec. 2, at the home of Mrs. Walter Harlan on Lincoln avenue.

LARKSPUR KENSINGTON

Mrs. Chris Ketzel was hostess to the members of the Larkspur kensington in her home on East Madison avenue at a 12 o'clock dinner on Wednesday. Covers were arranged for 16 guests. Mrs. William Ketzel was a special guest. The hostess, Mrs. Ketzel, was assisted in serving by Mrs. Ben Jenkins and Mrs. William Ketzel. Following the dinner the afternoon was spent informally, with social chat and fancywork.

The next meeting will be in two weeks, at the home of Mrs. William Donnley on Pennsylvania avenue.

COTTAGE MEETING

Cottage prayer meeting will be held Friday evening at the home of J. G. Walker on West Madison avenue.

MRS. SHEPPARD WILL SPEAK

Mrs. Lulu Loveland Sheppard of Salt Lake City, Utah, will speak in the Mahoning Methodist church on Sunday evening, Nov. 21, at 7:45 o'clock. Mrs. Sheppard has spoken in this city before and it is expected that a large crowd will be present to hear her Sunday evening in the local church.

AT YOUNGSTOWN

Mrs. David Bender of West Madison avenue attended the funeral of a relative at Youngstown, O., on Tuesday.

AT NILES

A number of ladies, members of the W. A. G. Club, are at Niles, O., today attending a tureen dinner and club meeting at the home of Mrs. Cadwalter Richards. Mrs. Richards was a former resident of the Seventh Ward.

WILL HAVE SOCIAL HOUR

Sunday evening preceding the Epworth League service in the Mahoning Methodist church a social hour wil lbe held and light refreshments will be served.

AT NEW WILMINGTON.

The delegates from the Mahoning Methodist church representing the local missionary societies including Mrs. J. A. Waddell of Liberty street, Mrs. M. M. Tindall of Willow Grove, Mrs. Omar Mauck of Newell avenue and Mrs. Lillian Stoner of Liberty street were at New Wilmington Wednesday and today attending the Foreign Missionary conference.

LADIES AID MEETING.

The members of the Ladies Aid of the Mahoning Methodist church had their monthly business meeting at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. During the meeting regular affairs of the society were discussed.

DR. W. B. CALDWELL AT THE AGE OF 83

Women Need a Mild Laxative —Not a "Physic"

Countless girls and women now know how foolish and needless it is to "purge" and "physic" themselves to avoid sick headache, dizziness, biliousness, sallow skin, colds, or sour, gassy stomach.

They have found that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin helps to establish natural bowel "regularity" even for those heretofore chronically constipated. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement but, best of all, it never gripes, sickens or upsets the most delicate girl or woman. Besides, it is absolutely harmless and so pleasant that even a cross, feverish, bilious, sick child gladly takes it.

Buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine or write "Syrup Pepsin", Monticello, Illinois, for a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE and just see for yourself.

Dr. Caldwell's SYRUP PEPSIN

The Best Cough Syrup Is Home-made

Here's an easy way to save $2, and yet have best cough medicine you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this famous home-made cough syrup. But have you ever used it? Thousands of families feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will soon earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified honey, instead of sugar syrup. It tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable guaiacol, which has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

No More Piles

Thousands Bless Dr. Leonhardt, the Physician Who Discovered This Common Sense Remedy

If you think that the surgeon's knife is the only method of escape from the misery of piles, it's because you haven't heard of the new treatment known as Dr. Leonhardt's HEM-ROID.

This Doctor's treatment is internal. By experimenting for years he discovered the exact cause of piles and then went further and compounded a remedy that would remove the cause.

Dr. Leonhardt wants every sufferer to benefit by his discovery and so that there will be no doubting or delay, McKee's Kut Rate Store, Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc. and all druggists are authorized to sell HEM-ROID with guarantee that it will do as stated or money back.

On that honorable basis every sufferer should secure a package of Dr. Leonhardt's HEM-ROID today.

Italian Flyer To Return Home

President Coolidge Congratulates Bernardi On Achievement

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Bearing America's last remaining air record in his pocket, Maj. Mario De Bernardi, the crack pilot of the Italian navy, came to Washington today to make his official farewells before returning home.

Maj. De Bernardi won the Schneider cup races at Norfolk last Saturday in record time, defeating the American navy's premier planes and pilots, and just before leaving Norfolk yesterday he broke the world's speed record over a 3-kilometre course. His little red monoplane hurtled over the straightway course at a rate of 258.87 miles an hour, breaking the previous record held by Lt. Jimmy Doolittle, U. S. A., by more than 13 miles.

The little Italian was presented to President Coolidge today and congratulated on his achievements.

Jewelry Store Robbery Nets Thugs $15,000

(International News Service)

BLAIRSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 18. — State police joined Indiana County authorities today in the search for robbers who late last night entered the George A. Walshuits jewelry store here and looted it of $15,000 in jewelry.

Gaining entrance through a rear window, the robbers went about their work leisurely, rifling the safe and then attempting to open wall cases containing expensive jewelry. They were frightened away, detectives believe, because in leaving the store they dropped several valuable rings.

The loot consisted of watches, rings and gems.

YOUNG PEOPLE COMPLETE PLANS FOR MOCK TRIAL

Record Attendance At Performance In First Presbyterian Church Is Expected

All arrangements for the mock trial, "Bobbed Hair Flappers" which will be presented Friday evening, November 19, in the First Presbyterian church under the auspices of the New Castle Inter-Sunday School Council, have been completed.

The affair is being supervised by T. J. Davies, Young People's Superintendent and Miss Geneva Fleming, associate superintendent.

The following changes in the cast of characters have been made.: Kathryn Booher of Savannah M. E. church will take the part of Amanda Gloom, a member of the faculty at Pumpkintown Academy. Miss Gloom poses as an authority on the definition of a flapper. Melvin Grey of the First Presbyterian church will play Sidney Fiscit the man around town. James Woodrow will take the part of Archibald Crab, court crier and Archie Dewberry as Amzi Useless, tipstaff.

Harvey Bush as Barney Ketchum, sheriff has summoned and completed the following jury: Mrs. Crowe—Mrs. C. B. Wingerd; Mrs. Swallow—Mrs. Clarence A. Patterson, Mrs. Hawke—Mrs. T. E. McLaughlin; Mrs. Robin—Mrs. R. B. Withers; Mrs. Sparrow—Mrs. Arthur B. Foster; Mrs. Lark—Mrs. George W. Conway; Mr. Wolf—W. M. Ramsey; Mr. Baer—Rev. George M. Landis; Mr. Fox—Rev. Samuel Whilding; Mr. Campbell—Rev. Claude Downs; Mr. Lyon—George W. Conway; Mr. Angora—Rev. C. B. Wingerd.

The ticket committee and Margaret Cowan, treasurer will meet in the First Presbyterian church this evening at 7:30 to receive report of tickets sold. A full rehearsal will take place this evening also in the church.

The judge and court officials and all lawyers and witnesses are expected to be in their places at 8 o'clock sharp.

From present indications of the advance sale of tickets a large crowd is assured.

BEAVER'S OLDEST VETERAN IS DEAD

WOODLAWN, Pa., Nov. 18.—John Purdy, 93, a lifelong resident of Beaver county, and the county's oldest Civil war veteran, is dead in his home on Logstown road, New Sheffield. He served in Company H, One Hundred and Fortieth Pennsylvania Volunteers, throughout the Civil war. He leaves a widow, one son, Attorney A. C. Purdy, of Dormont, Pa., and three sisters, Miss Esther and Sarah Purdy, and Mrs. Marie Hood, of Frankfort Springs.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Nov. 18.—Vassar college girls are abandoning bobbed hair in all its forms and returning to long tresses as fast as nature permits. The change in hair dressing style amounts almost to a stampede, say the beauty shops catering to the college trade. The sudden shift is due to an impression among the girls that the bob is too "common," hairdressers says.

Plan Harvest Home Service At Church

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, Pa., Nov. 18.—A harvest home service is planned for next Sunday morning at the First Presbyterian church that will be the first of its kind ever held.

It is planned to have fruits of the season on exhibition in the church as a setting to the service that is planned. On the following Sunday, November 28 will be held Recognition day by the church Sunday school when the attendance figures of the past year by classes and individuals will be announced and awards made.

It is said that there are several in the church Sunday school that have been members and teachers for over a quarter century with no misses except for sickness.. The evening service of November 28 will be in charge of the Missionary society of the church. Their annual thank-offering program is given at that time. Mrs. Dr. N. Lutz a returned missionary from Korea will speak.

Coke Production Is On Increase

(International News Service)

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 18,—While there was a sweeping decline in coal prices in the past week, coke sufered only mildly from the settlement of the British coal strike. Prices in the Connellsville region were quoted today as $4.50 to $5 as against $4.75 to $5 a week ago.

The coke output was reported increasing. Figures for the week ended November 13 showed the regional production to be 140,940 tons compared with 139,500 tons the week before. This was an increase of slightly more than 1,400 tons.

The increase was not taken to mean a change in the market but was considered as the fluctuation that occurs from time to time when production is being subjected to restrictive measures such as were in effect when the demand for coal was at its height and coke producers were bending every effort to obtain raw coal.

P. R. R. BUYS TEMPLE OF ROCHESTER MOOSE FOR EXTENSION PLAN

ROCHESTER, Pa., Nov. 18.—The Moose Temple property, formerly the Hotel Speyerer, was sold yesterday by Rochester Moose lodge, No. 331, Loyal Order of Moose, to the Pennsylvania Railroad company for $70,000. The property had been purchased by the Moose in March, 1923, for $25,000. It was bought to carry out a program of improvements contemplated by the railroad company, which, it is said, provides for the elimination of two grade crossings, an overhead bridge at Freedom, and sharp curve at West Rochester and for the building of additional tracks and other improvements. It is understood that the Pennsylvania company and the State Highway department together are working out plans for the improvements.

The Moose lodge purchased the Beaver county telephone exchange building for $22,500. The franchise of the Beaver County Telephone company was purchased about 18 months ago by the Bell Telephone company.

JEALOUS WIFE TAKES SIX SHOTS AT SPOUSE, ONE INFLICTS WOUND

ERIE, Pa., Nov. 18.—"You needn't look any further; I just shot my husband, and here's the gun," Mrs. Reba Warren told police this morning when they responded to the sound of pistol shots coming from a house on West Twelfth street.

They found that she had fired six shots at her husband, Daniel, a railroad detective, one of which had lodged in his back. The husband is not badly injured. Jealousy over his alleged attentions to other women is said to have caused the shooting.

Plans To Aid U. S. Farmers

Agricultural Economics Bureau To Be Reorganized By President

CONFERENCE WILL BE CALLED SOON

By GEORGE H. MANNING
(Washington Correspondent of the News.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 18.—Bureau of agricultural economics is to be reorganized by Secretary of Agriculture Jardine to make it more helpful to the farmers.

This bureau, potentially the most important in the U. S. agriculture department, could have gone a long way toward preventing the recent panic in cotton had it been functioning to full capacity, it is held by numerous farm economic experts.

Secretary Jardine has quietly invited a number of agricultural experts to confer with him on the reorganization of this bureau. While disavowals are made that the conference means more than appears on the surface, authorities believe that its purpose is to increase the efficiency of the bureau in connection with crop surpluses and government aid in their disposal.

Both the manner of calling the conference and the fact that a report is planned before the convening of the congress next month are considered as significant. It is stated that the report of the committee will be used either as the basis for further agricultural legislation, or, as is probable, placed before the house committee on agriculture, which is now holding hearings, in opposition to legislation not approved by the administration. It seems certain, too, that the matter of appointment of a director for the bureau will be discussed. None has been appointed since the resignation last spring of Professor Thomas L. Cooper.

Called to Conference.

Those called to the conference, outside of the government service, are men of national importance in agricultural matters. Dr. E. G. Nourse is an acknowledged authority on agricultural economics, now with the institute of economics of Washington, D. C.; Clyde L. King, formerly with the "Sidney Anderson agricultural commission," appointed by President Harding, is chairman of the citizens committee named by Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania to investigate state finances, and Prof. Thomas L. Cooper, dean of Kentucky Agricultural college, was formerly director of the bureau of agricultural economics of the department of agriculture. Those within the department with whom the secretary plans to consult are A. F. Woods, director of scientific work, and C. S. Scofield of the bureau of plant industry.

As of especial interest in connection with the present situation it should be remembered that the bureau is charged with crop estimating, and has been frequently criticized on its cotton estimates. It contains within it, also, the newly enlarged division of cooperative marketing, which while largely a research body to assist in development of cooperative marketing, is responsible for the proper handling of cooperative groups in line with the administration's well known policy in that direction.

In adidtion to estimating crops and encouraging cooperative marketing, studies are made by the bureau of economics of marketing methods, conditions and costs and with regard to the standardization, transportation, handling and storage of agricultural products. Reports are issued covering the supply, commercial movement, disposition and market prices of the principal farm products. Information is secured and published with regard to the supply of and demand for agricultural products in foreign countries. A market inspection service is available at many of the principal producing and receiving centers of the country on fruits and vegetables, hay, meat grades, butter and eggs. Regulatory work is performed in connection with the enforcement of the United States cotton futures act, United States cotton standards act, the United States grain standards act, the standard container act and the United States warehouse act.

Sciatic-Neuritis

The sciatic nerve, situated at the back of the hip joint is frequently the subject of Neuritis, giving rise to the painful disease Sciatica. The symptoms are intense pains which shoots down the thigh to the foot, often aggravated by walking, and with painful joints along the course of the nerve, very tender to the touch.

The disease is a very obstinate one and does not readily respond to ordinary treatment. It takes more than the usual pain sedative even to alleviate the pain. The quickest, safest and surest way to get rid of the persistent nerve racking pains of Neuritis is to get a bottle of Allenrhu Special Formula No. 2, which comes in capsule form. Take them as directed and notice how in about 24 hours they have considerably reduced, if not entirely banished, all pain and soreness. Continue until the Neuritis has entirely disappeared and you are able to work and rest in comfort once again. McKee's Kut Rate Store, Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc. keeps Allenrhu Special Formula No. 2 in stock all the time and sells lots of it.

Trinity Men's Club Meets On Wednesday

Make Plans For Future Meetings Of The Organization This Winter

A social and business session of the Men's Club of Trinity Episcopal church was held last night in the guildroom of the church. There was a good attendance of members and plans were made for future activities and meetings of the organization.

Robert M. Garland was appointed as chairman of the committee on decorating the church during the Christmas season of the year. It was also voted that all members personally urge the confirmed men and boys of the church to be in attendance at the corporate communion for men and boys on Sunday, November 28. The secretary was also instructed to send out a reminder card calling attention of the members of the club to the communion.

Arrangements were completed to have the P. & O. Electric Company put on its group of entertainers and moving pictures at the January meeting of the club, which will be held the third Wednesday of that month.

A committee consisting of Messrs. Frank Offutt, Frederick Fowler and William Hewitt was named by the president H. P. Meehan to provide the entertainment and lunch for the December meeting.

L. W. Strayer, vestryman and faithful member of the club, was also remembered at the meeting and the well wishes of the club for his speedy recovery from the automobile accident at Stoyestown, Pa., on Monday were directed sent to him by the secretary of the organization.

At the conclusion of the business and social sessions of the evening, lunch was served by the committee in charge for the evening.

His Piles Gone In Just Five Days

Almost A Miracle, He Tells His Friends.

He suffered intense agony from piles for years. The itching—the burning—the terrible straining almost drove him crazy.

He went to his druggist and bought a tube of Pile-Foe because he had read an ad that guaranteed it to "end all pile distress, agony, itching and burning in 5 days or money back".

It cost him a dollar, but as he tells his friends when boosting Pile-Foe, "It was worth a thousand. It stopped all misery as if by magic. It was all O. K. in five days. It was almost a miracle how speedily they vanished".

Pile-Foe is a physician's prescription that McKee's Kut Rate Store and druggists everywhere rigidly guarantee.

Doctor Injured In Auto Crash, Then Arrested

Several Others Are Hurt In Accident On New Castle-Butler Road

PORTERSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 18.—Dr. J. E. Quigley of Portersville escaped with slight injuries and James Dilts, Elmer Mazza and Lewis Bockey, members of a Butler bowling team motoring to Ellwood City, narrowly escaped serious injury one mile west of Prospect when two automobiles crashed. Both machines were badly damaged.

Dr. Quigley, driving toward Prospect, was rounding a curve on the higway when Dilts, at the wheel of the car approaching him, steered his machine toward an embankment in order to avoid a head-on collision.

As the machines crashed, Dr. Quigley's car rolled over several times and the driver was pinned under the steering wheel, but was extricated without being badly hurt. Dilts and the other occupants of his car were severely jolted and the rear wheels were ripped off when the machine turned over.

Harry Rosenthal of New Castle and C. W. Hollefreund of Butler were among the first persons to arrive at the scene of the accident and assisted in uprighting the cars and removed the wreckage.

After the collision Dr. Quigley was arrested by a state highway patrolman on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated. He will appear for hearing before Alderman George R. Kearns of Butler.

Writing Expert Takes Stand In Federal Trial

Case Against Six Charged With Auto Larceny Will Continue Another Week

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 18. — The trial of Herman Salvione, of Farrell, and six other men, charged with unlawful possession and transportation of stolen automobiles in Interstate Commerce probably will extend through next week, assistant Federal prosecutor S. W. Pringle declared today.

Prosecutor Pringle said the Government hoped to conclude its presentation of evidence by the end of this week, and that the defense probably would require all of next week to present its case.

As the fourth day of the trial opened before Judge R. M. Gibson in Federal court today, H. F. Burtner, a handwriting expert, was called upon to examine the handwriting on several bills of sale pertaining to the stolen cars.

Burtner said that two bills of sale, one signed by Kitini Pissinano and another by Cecil Rogers, one of the defendants, apparently were written by the same person and that he believed Rodgers wrote both. He identified the handwriting on other bills of sale as genuine.

A. V. Hanson, vice president of the Interstate Underwriters Corporation, New York, was then called. He testified that his concern paid insurance to the owners of several of the cars which the prosecution alleges were stolen by the defendants. Some of these machines were recovered by the insurance company, he testified.

Salvione, the alleged leader of the men on trial, also is under indictment on charges of violating the Mann Act. Action on this charge will be deferred until the present case is settled, it was learned.

Train Robber Suspect Nabbed In Toledo, Ohio

(International News Service)

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 18.—A youth, resembling the description of one of three brothers, alleged to have held up an express train in the Siskiyou Mountains of Oregon in 1923, killing three trainmen and a mail clerk, was taken into custody here today.

Detectives said that Bertillon pictures show a marked resemblance between the young man and the fugitive. His fingerprints are being checked.

Gum Machines Are Confiscated

Slot Machines Being Taken By Police Under Orders Of Mayor

Acting under instructions of Mayor William H. Dunlap, that all slot machines used in various stores and other places which had any element of gambling connected with them be stopped, Detective C. C. Horner, Officer Thomas Lynch and other members of the police department have confiscated 15 gum slot machines found in use in all sections of the city and will continue to confiscate others until they have all been eliminated. The persons operating the machines in their stores have been ordered in before the mayor.

The confiscation of these machines started Wednesday afternoon and was still under way today. At the rate they are being brought into the police station the office of the chief of police will soon have the appearance of a regular gum shop.

The machines being confiscated are of that type in which there are several hundred round balls of gum, with numbers on them. Every now and then the player of the machine would get a ball that entitled him to 25 cents, 50 cents and perhaps more, in trade or cash, according to the place in which it happened to be operated. Most of the numbers were what may be termed blanks and drew no reward for spending a nickel each time for the ball of gum, it is charged.

The confiscation of the machines was the result of information to the effect that the city was being flooded with these gambling devices, which did not give value for the money spent.

Hold Conference In Regard To Sewerage

Emerson And Jones Tell Council Personally What Company Will Do

C. A. Emerson and A. A. Jones, representatives of the Fuller & McClintock Company, which made the plans for the sewage disposal plant, conferred with councilmen today relative to conducting an exhaustive survey of local sewer system conditions.

According to communication on file with council, the concern offered to make the survey for $4,000, and if it is desired, prepare maps and records for $2,500 additional.

It is not known what action council will take, but it is probable that on Friday a formal report of today's negotiations will be made during council session.

Several councilmen believe the local sewer system is inadequate and desire to make plans for its betterment, not only for the present time, but for years to come.

Only the New Studebaker Custom Cars Have This

Draftless, Stormproof Windshield

This cut-away diagram shows how the Studebaker no-draft ventilating windshield, when opened outward, directs the air up over the occupants' heads. Figure 1 indicates the convenient handle on the dash for adjusting the windshield to any desired position. Figure 2 points to the hidden trough under the cowl which carries off rain when the windshield is set for storm-proof ventilation.

Fresh air without rain or drafts

WITH characteristic initiative, Studebaker engineers have solved the long-neglected problem of closed car ventilation.

In the new Studebaker Custom Cars, a unique, patented windshield eliminates all possibility of stuffiness from smoky or vitiated air, of acrid engine odors, of chilling drafts, or of discomforting rain sprays showering driver or passengers.

Waterproof Ventilation at Last Perfected

Set for stormproof ventilation, this Studebaker windshield admits outside air in a controlled current, but carries off the rain through cleverly designed troughs beneath the cowl.

In other closed cars, during rainy weather, it becomes necessary to close the windshield, cowl ventilator, and windows to prevent rain from entering. Shortly the atmosphere becomes close and muggy. Windshield and windows become steamed, obscuring vision to an extent ofttimes dangerous. Quite in contrast is the rush of clean, sweet air which abounds in the Studebaker Custom Cars under all weather conditions, by reason of the patented Studebaker no-draft windshield.

Elderly people, mothers of young children, and women who are often lightly dressed for social engagements will particularly appreciate this no-draft windshield. Men can now enjoy smoking without annoyance to other occupants, because the air is constantly renewed.

Easily Adjusted by the Turn of a Handle

You can adjust this exclusive Studebaker windshield without taking your eyes from the road. No troublesome sidescrews to loosen and tighten again—no stopping to reach up to the top of the car. A convenient handle, right on the dash, sets the windshield at any position desired.

Custom Completeness at No Extra Cost

This no-draft ventilating windshield is typical of the completeness of the new Studebaker Custom Cars. Their external beauty, resplendent in lustrous duotone lacquers, is matched by interior luxury, with more than $100 worth of extra equipment without extra cost.

Studebaker One-Profit facilities have produced these masterpieces of custom design at less than customary prices—come in and see them today.

All Studebaker Custom Cars have the following equipment: No-draft ventilating windshield, exclusively Studebaker; front and rear bumpers; engine thermometer and hydrostatic gasoline gauge on the dash; coincidental lock; oil filter and air purifier; automatic windshield cleaner; rear-vision mirror; traffic signal light; 4-wheel brakes; full-size balloon tires; and two-beam acorn headlights, controlled from steering wheel.

Science Endorses Studebaker Hygienic Ventilation

"I have analyzed carefully the system of ventilation which you have adopted for your Custom Cars and find it thoroughly efficient. At ordinary speeds the air will change completely every five minutes. I know of no other windshield which equals this for scientific ventilation."
PROF. J. D. HOFFMAN of Purdue University, Past President, American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers.

"Your no-draft ventilating windshield not only adds considerably to the comfort of driving, but gives a definite protection against the ills caused by riding in a draft. Fresh air is one of the greatest benefits of motoring. This device insures a constant change of air yet eliminates the exposure to direct drafts in cold or blustery weather. I believe it to be a decided reform from cowl or open windshield ventilation."
DR. CHAS. J. WHALEN,
Past President, Illinois Medical Assn. Editor, Illinois Medical Journal.

"The new windshield ventilating system is ideal. Its 'overhead or underfoot' selective feature is excellent for the avoidance of the disagreeable drafts to which one is subjected in most cars; and its rainstorm ventilation is a triumph. No more hot, stuffy cars during showers!"
DR. B. STEWART RALSTON,
303 Neville Street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

"The ventilating system in your new Custom Sedans, through the use of a no-draft windshield, was such a revelation to me that I felt duty-bound as a physician to endorse it. To the best of my knowledge it is the finest windshield and best ventilator ever put on a motor car."

Why We Become Weak, Run-Down If Glands Fail

THOUSANDS drag through life always tired and worn-out, suffering with loss of energy and vitality, and fail to recognize the cause of their trouble. Medical authorities now know the trouble as "asthenia", and claim it is caused by an unbalanced glandular system or weakened glands.

Glands exert a remarkable influence on health, strength and vitality. When the glands function normally they supply their vitalizing hormones (or secretions) which are essential to physical well-being. And when the glands fail to function, health fails.

Now, glandular treatment, which is endorsed by eminent scientists and physicians of this country and Europe, is being used by thousands of men and women to help overcome a weakened, worn-out, rundown, exhausted condition, and to regain the strength, vigor and vitality that are the natural benefits resulting from a normal glandular system.

Glandogen, the new scientific gland tonic, provides a simple method of taking glandular treatment. Glandogen is prepared in convenient tablet form, for both men and women. Accept no substitutes. Insist on genuine Glandogen, the original gland tonic. Love & Megown Drug Co.

Winter Activities Of V.F.W. In Full Swing

Winter activities of Corp. Harry L. McBride post 522, Veterans of Foreign Wars are now in full swing and the various committees of the organization find it necessary for almost continuous meetings, in order to carry out the program authorized by the post.

Plans are now under way for holding a banquet and formal initiation, prior to the Christmas holiday, the date for which has not as yet been set.

This event promises to eclipse anything ever attempted by a veteran organization in this city, as it will be attended by prominent members of the organization from all parts of western Pennsylvania.

Delegations from Allegheny, Beaver, Butler, Mercer and Erie counties, including the crack degree team from the latter, will be in attendance, at which time a number of prominent veterans will be initiated into the order.

Past Commanders-in-Chief Woodside and Stover will attend the event and it is highly possible that the present commander-in-chief, Col. Stitt of New York, will attend.

Numerous requests from citizens not eligible to membership for tickets to the banquet have induced the committee to invite a limited number to participate in that part of the event.

Will Present Play.

Preparations for the presentation of a South Sea island comedy "Bimbo" in the new Scottish Rite cathedral the latter part of January, are rapidly taking form and the selection of the cast, which will number approximately 150 persons, will be undertaken soon.

"Bimbo" is an exceptional high type musical comedy and will feature a number of the most talented local entertainers, many of whom have already expressed enthusiasm for the production, the first of its kind to be staged in the new cathedral.

This form of entertainment is a new undertaking for the post and it is contemplated to stage the production two evenings at popular prices.

Should the play meet with the approval of the public, it will no doubt become an annual affair and take its place among the winter events of the city.

Sponsor Municipal Band.

The post has decided to take a place in the ranks of civic organizations, and as an initial undertaking will sponsor a municipal band and orchestra, according to a resolution passed at the last meeting.

The idea has been nursed by several music lovers of the city for several months, it being generally agreed that the public schools of this city turn out more musicians of merit than any other city of similar size in the country.

Unfortunately, after graduation from high school there is little opportunity for members of the various school bands to continue their practice, many of them as a result being compelled to give up their instruments.

The post expects, through its leadership, to perfect an organization of musicians who, under the leadership of a competent corps of instructors, will be able to represent the city at all public functions and fill a big gap in the present needs of New Castle.

Necessary finances to start the project will be provided from the post treasury, if required, although there is little doubt that once under way the city fathers will avail themselves of the opportunity provided by an act of assembly to provide necessary funds.

Successful Year.

The year 1926 has been an exceptional one for Corp. McBride post. "Everything we have undertaken has gone over big, thanks to the liberal support of the public and city officials," Commander Walter Smith announced.

"We expect to show our appreciation of this support and our loyalty to New Castle by putting our shoulder to the wheel of the booster wagon," he continued.

"The post relief fund is in excellent condition, and a civic project account is now included in our budget," announced Post Quartermaster Clapie.

Post officers for 1927 will be nominated at the next meeting, which will be Monday, December 6, at the legion home.

Newly Compiled and ENLARGED DICTIONARY

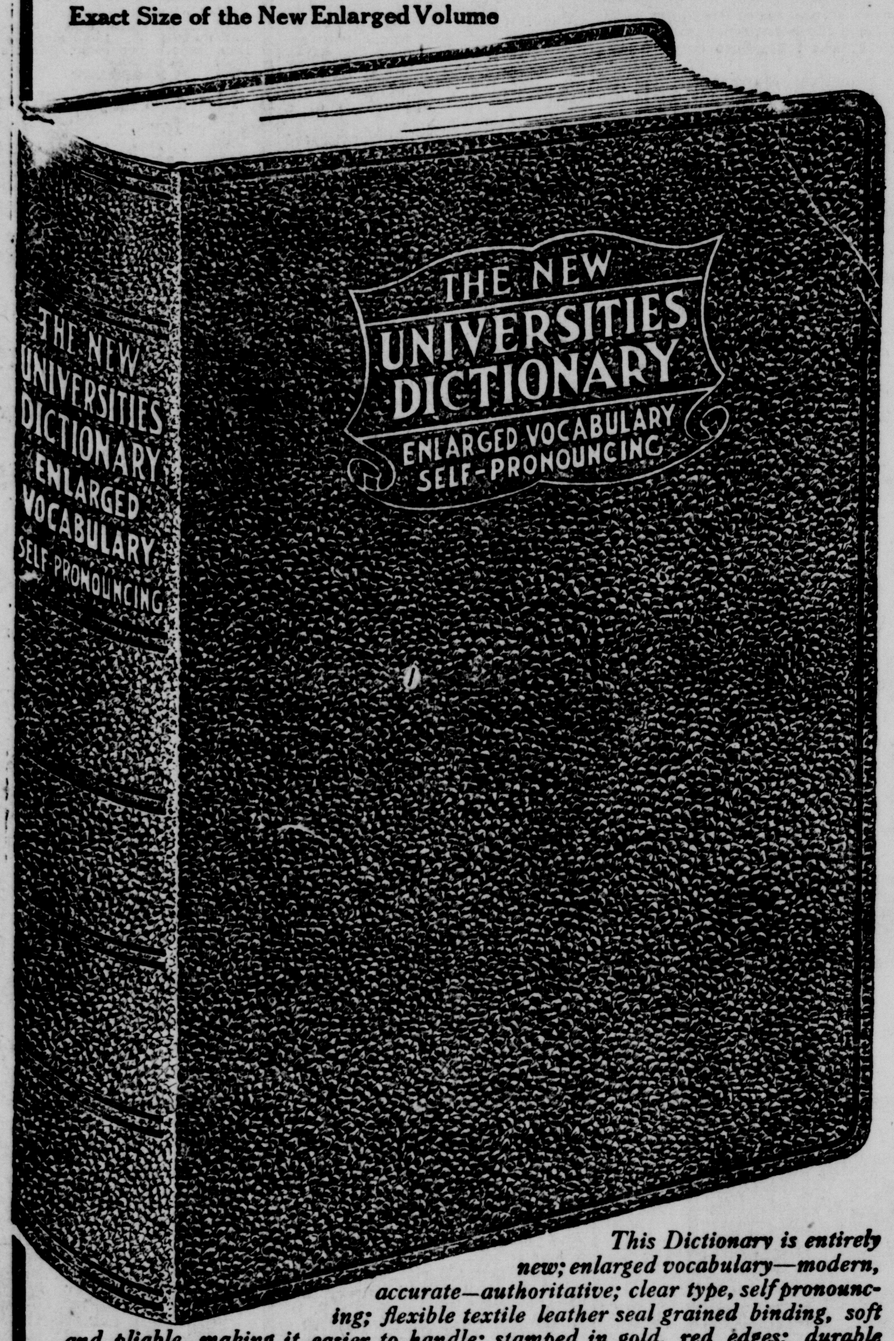
Due to the vast number of new words that were brought into our language through the rapid developments of the last few years, the publishers have found it necessary to discard previous issues and to compile an entirely new dictionary. Necessary additions have greatly increased its value and attractiveness, and this complete enlarged edition is now offered to readers of

Size of Page Enlarged
Thousands of Words Added

The New Castle News

Exact Size of the New Enlarged Volume



This Dictionary is entirely new; enlarged vocabulary—modern, accurate—authoritative; clear type, self pronouncing; flexible textile leather seal grained binding, soft and pliable, making it easier to handle; stamped in gold, red edges; durable and complete in every detail of modern book making.

IT is natural that readers should expect only the best of everything to be advertised through their favorite newspaper, so no effort or expense has been spared to make this volume fully satisfy even the highest expectations.

Benefit by Experience

The publishers have issued dictionaries before this one. At the time they were published nothing better could have been offered. But improvement is the order of the age. Experience brought ways and means of far excelling previous efforts; later inventions and discoveries in printing developed further methods of betterment; and the result is a volume that surpasses all past accomplishments. With its greatly enlarged vocabulary and its additional ready reference material, it is by far the most useful of all similar volumes ever designed for home, school, or office.

You Should Know the New Words

Due to the recent developments in aviation and radio, as well as in other arts and sciences, numerous new words have come into our language, and these are all properly classified and defined in this latest enlarged volume.

It Will Be Your Daily Help

Let this new dictionary be your daily help in writing or talking. It spells for you, pronounces for you, and defines words for you, enabling you to clearly express your thoughts to your advantage.

How to Talk

By FARQUHAR JOHNSON
Consulting Editor, New Universities Dictionary

Article No. 1

The publishers have asked me to supply a series of easy-to-read talks on our modern language. "Talks on Talking," might be the proper term, for I shall endeavor to set forth some of the needs for improvement in our daily conversation.

There is a right and a wrong way to do almost everything. And strange as it may seem, the right way usually is as easy as the wrong way.

The correct use of words is not difficult. The trouble lies in starting wrong. Our elders should have taught us to speak correctly from childhood—they should have recognized the advantages of correct expression of thought.

But here we are, practicing the same errors with children. We teach them good morals, but poor use of words is disregarded. They are taught not to use bad words, but seldom are they cautioned against using bad grammar.

Of course I refer to home training—to starting the child right when first it begins to learn to form words into sentences. How easy it would be to learn to speak correctly at that age! And again, the wrong way is no easier than the right way. Then, why should not the child be taught correctly at the start? Carelessness on the part of the parents is the answer—plain carelessness, for which there is no excuse.

Before the day of the dictionary—when educational advantages were few—before the advent of the university—little blame could be attached to those that did not speak correctly. But today is entirely different. Here are daily newspapers, which in themselves are examples of the advancement in modern English. Here are great publishing organizations sparing no expense in upbuilding the greatest language known to man. And here is an example of such effort in the New Enlarged Universities Dictionary—now offered to the public in a manner that leaves no excuse for loose talk.

It will be my pleasure to discuss our great language in this series of articles appearing in this newspaper from time to time.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

BY MRS. MARY MORTON

MENU HINT

With this dinner menu is included a recipe for beef broth which may be served as a first course with the dinner or fed to the baby for its lunch or supper. The casserole of sausage, apple and sweet potatoes will fill the demand for something new and different.

Casserole of Sausage
Sweet Potatoes and Apples
Whole Wheat Bread Butter
Cabbage Salad with Boiled Dressing and Celery Seed
Jelly Meringue Custard with Lady Fingers

TODAY'S RECIPES

Beef Broth with Rice and Tomatoes—Cook slowly one-half pound lean beef, cut into pieces; two tablespoons rice, one quart water to about half the quantity or until rice is done. Take out the meat. Remove half the soup, to serve plain the next day. Add four tablespoons strained tomato juice to remainder and serve.

Custard with Jelly Meringue—Make a boiled custard. Whip the whites of the eggs separately, adding two tablespoons of jelly. Add to hot custard and mix lightly to cook the meringue. For evening serve over split lady fingers or sponge cake.

Casserole of Sausage, Apple and Sweet Potatoes—Butter a baking dish and put in a sufficient quantity of sliced sweet potatoes. Add a layer of meat sausage and then a layer of sliced apples, sweetened slightly. Cover with water and bake.

Boiled Salad Dressing—One-half teaspoon mustard, one-half teaspoon salt, two tablespoons flour, one tablespoon sugar, two tablespoons butter, three-quarter cup milk, yolk of one egg, one-quarter cup hot vinegar. Mix the dry ingredients in a double boiler, stir into them the yolks, butter and then the milk. Stir the mixture over hot water until it begins to thicken, then stir in the vinegar, a few drops at a time.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARIES

The 25th wedding anniversary, as everyone knows, is the silver wedding. Gifts of silver or those trimmed with silver are appropriate—such as table silver, candlesticks, vanity cases, cigarette cases, jewelry, etc. Silver dishes should be used as much as possible in setting the table. A good dinner menu for this occasion would be: fruit cocktail served in half a grapefruit shell, celery, olives, roast chicken, currant jelly, scalloped potatoes, candied sweet potatoes, spinach, green salad, wedding cake, nuts, candy, coffee.

SUGGESTIONS

Have You Tried:

Creamed spinach on squares of fried bread? This is a good luncheon dish.

Cooking apples around the roast pork, to serve with the meat, or serving applesauce with it, or parsnips with pork.

Serving horseradish with roast beef.

Tomato sauce with roast veal.

Currant jelly with roast mutton.

Corn fritters with roast chicken.

Try This for Dessert

Drain syrup from one can pears heat to boiling point, add one-third cup of sugar, one tablespoon of lemon juice, one and one-half tablespoons of granulated gelatine soaked in two tablespoons of cold water and then dissolved in one-third cup of boiling water. Cut pears in dice, arrange in mold with thin slices of candied ginger. Pour on slightly hardened jelly, chili and unmold. Serve with or without cream.

Will Nominate Officers Friday

At the meeting of Oscar L. Jackson Camp No. 249, Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War, Friday evening in the Sons of Veterans hall in the city building, nominations for the various offices to be filled for the ensuing year will be made. There will also be a smoker held in connection with the meeting and plans are being made to entertain a record a number of the organization.

LASKEY HEARING ON NEXT MONDAY

Hearing of Mrs. Kathryn Laskey and daughter Emma on charges of larceny and receiving stolen goods which was to have been held Wednesday afternoon at the court of Alderman Walter T. Hamilton has been continued until Monday.

The quickest way to get tired is to keep thinking how much work you have yet to do.

GIRLS' CLUB DECREE HITS BARE KNEES

Amherst (O.) Pupils Say Longer Skirts Must Be Worn

AMHERST, O., Nov. 18.—Bare knees are taboo in Amherst High school in the future.

That was the decision reached this afternoon by the Friendship club, composed of most of the girls of the school. The majority of the 100 members of the club demanded that all girls wear skirts long enough to come well over the knees.

Calling a special meeting of the club, Miss Virginia Gillman, senior and club president, declared skirts had been the cause of some comment "What shall we do?" she asked.

"Let's give all the girls an idea of where we stand on this question and ostracize those who continue to wear skirts that are too short," suggested one.

The "fashion session" of the club was lively, it was said, but several freshmen girls in attendance, while opposed to the edict" as adopted, asserted after the meeting that they were too timid to express their opposition.

"If girls must roll their stockings, let them roll them above the knees and have skirts plenty long," the older girls asserted.

Miss Marion Steele, principal of the school, was declared by proponents of the new fashion edict to be in sympathy with the movement.

Nearly all the girls of the school are members of the club.

Mrs. Humphreys Reaches Saint Cloud, Florida; Tells Of Trip South

Cor. Wyoming and Tenth Streets,
Saint Cloud, Florida,
November 14, 1926.

New Castle News:

We have been in port since Thursday, November 4, at about 6:30 p. m. and we are getting pretty well settled to housekeeping. The News was here to greet us and has been coming regularly and is a much appreciated sheet. For some reason we have missed a letter sent en route. My cousin from Wilkinsburg reports one of her cards as having nothing on it but the address, so maybe I forgot the address on The News letter. That one had our itinerary as far as Salisbury, N. C., and as it may still turn up, I will resume from that point.

It rained on us the morning out of Salisbury, but there are good roads in that section, so we made our start and soon ran out into sunshine again. The highway here touches a number of cotton mill towns, one, I think it was at Kannopolis, North Carolina, informing us through the medium of a big billboard that they made six hundred thousand towels a day there. Before we ran out of the cotton belt we had picked cotton and saw the ginning process, and Mrs. Rounds had operated the lever to press a bale. Cotton is an unusually good crop, but if we believe the calamity howlers we would conclude that the bigger the crop the worse it is for the growers. They make the claim that it has cost 20 cents per pound to produce the cotton and the prevailing price at the present time is around 12 cents. For some reason the crop is not being harvested and there was a very noticeable absence of negro laborers where it was being picked. Scarce and high-priced labor and fertilizer are given as the contributing causes of the unsatisfactory conditions. Greer, South Carolina, was our next overnight point, where we spent a very comfortable night in a private house which caters to tourists. If any of you are thinking of driving down, I will be glad to furnish you the address and am sure you will be as delighted as we were with the ham and hot biscuit breakfast furnished us. Roads were fine and we were soon over into Georgia, only making a stop where sorghum was being ground and made into syrup by the roadside. We watched the process, chewed cane with the natives, and had our thermos bottle filled to bring along. Since trying it out at home on buckwheat cakes we are sorry we didn't use the gallon Aladdin jug, instead of the quart bottle. I asked the women in charge of the outfit where they marketed their product, and she said they sold most of it to the "touristers".

We found the roads in Georgia unusually good and made Monticello by night. Next morning we left the direct highway at Echeconnee and drove to Andersonville National Cemetery and Prison Park. It rained most of the day and we only stayed a short time at the cemetery, and only long enough at the stockade to get a general idea of the place and to visit Providence spring. My aunt, whose cousin had been one of the victims who died in the prison, was anxious to locate his grave, but, as the caretaker was not to be found, we could not have access to the records. Retracing our steps, we came back to Montezuna and although still early, we decided to spend the night and take the 20-mile cross-country drive back to the highway in the morning. Montezuina is in the best peach growing belt in Georgia. The famous Peach Blossom Festival is held here in March, and the landlady at the hotel told us that for weeks during the peach season she served peaches and cream in soup bowls three times a day to her guests and kept bushel baskets of the fruit in the lobby at all times for all who wished to help themselves. I'll have to mention her menus. Supper consisted of fried chicken, fresh fried fish and vegetables galore. Breakfast, buttered mackerel, bacon, beautiful crisp slices of it; eggs, French fried potatoes and hot biscuit and jelly at both meals. It cost us each two dollars and a half for a room with a nice open grate fire, bed and breakfast. Good roads again brought us through southern Georgia and into Florida, where we stopped at Jaspar for our last night on the road.

In Jaspar our hostess told us she had 28 tourists that night, and in order to give us two beds in one room, which we had all the way down, she made us one of a pair of springs on the floor and a feather bed, and was delighted when she found we could furnish our own pillows. I think her family slept in the dining room, but as we took our meals at the "Mutt and Jeff" cafe downtown, we did not mind that. The last day's drive of 225 miles was over very good roads with the exception of a few miles from Leesburg to Mt. Dora via Eustis, where the road was under construction.

The New Castle people, so far as we have seen them, are looking fine. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Newton and children, of Ellwood City, look as though the summer had agreed with them. Tourists are coming in rapidly.

I will have impressions and conditions to be discussed at a later date, as it is supper time. The hectic conditions of last winter are absent, and I think a much healthier town is to be observed in business conditions.

We all wish to extend our congratulations to "Arthur Mometer" on the results of November 2.

MRS. S. M. HUMPHREYS.

Save Children Is Plea Made For Seal Sales

HARRISBURG, Nov. 18.—A plea that the children of Pennsylvania be saved from the preventable disease of tuberculosis was made by Dr. Francis B. Haas, state superintendent of public instruction, at a meeting of the Christmas seal committee for Pennsylvania, here this afternoon.

Dr. Haas presented figures showing the large number of deaths among children from the white plague and what this means in the family life and economically. He pointed out that between the ages of one and ten years nearly six per cent of all deaths during those ages in Pennsylvania are from tuberculosis. Between the ages of 10 and 19 one death in five is from tuberculosis.

"This is a serious matter socially as well as materially", said Dr. Haas. "It will mean much for Pennsylvania if educators and all groups of citizens will unite in this wonderful movement to eliminate an unnecessary loss of the children who are to be our future citizens".

Colonel Henry W. Shoemaker, Christmas seal chairman for Pennsylvania, presided and other speakers included Bishop James H. Darlington of Harrisburg; R. S. Knapp of Easton, president of the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society; Major Robert Y. Stuart of the state department of forest and waters, and Arthur M. Dewees, executive secretary of the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society.

It was announced that additional members of the state Christmas seal committee had been appointed as follows:

E. J. Stackpole, Harrisburg; John A. Herman, Harrisburg; Mrs. William Bryce, Bedford, and Prof. Charles E. Dickey of Pittsburgh.

Other members of the seal committee present included Dr. Charles H. Miner, state secretary of health, and Miss Frances Dorrance, Wilkes-Barre.

Swarms of gnats rising from the steeple of a church in an English town, and creating an illusion of rolling smoke, caused an alarm of fire.

Is Your Child Thin and Weak?

Right Way To Put On Good Flesh And Make Them Grow Up Strong And Vigorous.

As a body builder, an appetite creator, and to make weak, skinny boys and girls sturdy, strong and full of energy, there is nothing like Cod Liver Oil—any physician will tell you that.

But it's vile, horrible stuff to take, and is apt to upset any stomach, so now doctors are prescribing and wise parents are buying McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—sugar coated, and as easy to take as candy.

The son of George G. O'Brien, of Mahwah, N. J., was thin and pale and did not get enough nourishment from his food. In a little over two months, he gained eleven and one-half pounds, and feels and looks one hundred per cent better.

Mothers, if any of your children are weak, thin or puny, give them these tablets, as directed for 30 days, and watch them gain flesh and health from day to day—they seldom fail—but if the unusual should happen and you are not supremely satisfied with results—your druggist is authorized to return your money.

Be sure—always—to insist on the original and genuine McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—60 tablets 60 cents at McKee's Kut Rate Store, Love & Megown, Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc, or any druggist. Thousands of boxes sold daily.

The Young Mother.

The ills of infants and children should be so well known to the youngest of mothers that a reminder or a repetition of the symptoms of illness seems unnecessary, yet there are some mothers who overlook a feverish condition, a little colic, or a disposition to be irritable. If not corrected they may lead to serious sickness. And to correct them, to bring Baby back to its happy self, is so easy by the use of Castoria—a medicine prepared just for infants and children. It will regulate the bowels (not force them), aid digestion and so bring quiet and rest.

Fletcher's Castoria has been doing this for over 30 years; regulating the stomach and bowels of infants and children. It has replaced the nauseating Castor Oil, so-called Soothing Syrups, poisonous Paregoric and other vicious concoctions in the homes of true and honest mothers—mothers who love their children.

Those mothers will give their babies foods and medicines especially prepared for infants and children.

To avoid imitations always look for the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. Proven directions on each package. Physicians everywhere recommend it.

COMFORT FOR THE PEOPLE

The true source of real comfort is the Bible. It is the Bible that tells us of the coming time of peace when justice will be laid to the line and righteousness to the plummet.

The Bible tells us that as surely as God lives the whole earth shall be filled with His glory, the glory of perfection first represented in Paradise.

The time of righteousness nears. Soon shall the world be delivered from all its woes. Come and hear

PETERS ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

By Florence Smith Vincent

DINNER TIME IN WILD HORSE VALLEY

"Wander and his Master had started up the mountain in the cool of the morning, but the shadows of afternoon were beginning to lengthen before they neared the crest. Yet everything comes to an end if only one keeps going long enough, even a climb up the steepest of mountains. And by and by the Man and the Dog reached the top.

"The Man was weary and stopped to rest. But Wander was curious and ran to peep over the edge.

"Woof!' barked Wander, just for a second in his surprise forgetting the rules of the hunt—to make no noise—but that one bark made his Master scowl and brought him hurrying to the Dog's side. 'What ails you, my Hound?' said he sharply. 'Fie upon you for crying to the world that we are on the mountain top! Think you the Wild Horses are hard of hearing? Sorry I am that I let you trail at my heels if we've followed them thus far but to warn them!'

"Wander, being a Dog, could not well blush for shame, but he could hang his head, and he did. Master was right! He was a poor huntsman to so lose his reason. He'd a good mind to put his tail between his legs and run back home. And then, just as he was feeling his worst Master said something to make him feel better!

"'Great bows and little arrows! What a sight! Wander, my trusty Hound, you must aid me to make a capture!'

"So he was some use, after all! Master hadn't really meant the harsh things he'd said. Guess he'd better stick around.

UPON THESE GREEN PATCHES HORSES WERE GRAZING, SCORES OF THEM!

"Up went Wander's head and together he and his Master looked down from the mountain. There below them stretched a valley that should have been green, but was instead scorched brown by the hot sun. Most of the land looked hard and bare, but here and there were patches of green and upon these green patches horses were grazing, scores of them—more than Wander had ever before seen together at one time. Their eyes and their minds were upon their meal, nor did they even pause to nip at the flies that tormented them, but slapped at the pests with their flowing tails."

Next: "Down Secret Pass."

WINS FAME, AND RETURNS

SAN FRANCISCO — At one time a carbaret dancer in San Francisco, Mary Lewis, Metropolitan grand opera star, has returned to the city from where she started on the road to fame years ago. Undreamed-of success has been the meed of the little dancer since she left to try her luck in a road show that started her on the path to her present success. The little dancer of former years has bloomed into a gorgeous flower of the Metropolitan opera. It is her first visit here since she joined the road show years ago.

WHALE HAS STRONG "PULL"

SYDNEY, Australia — John Douglass, a pearl diver, has just had the experience of being towed a mile underwater by a whale. Every time the man tending the signal line attached to Douglas, during a recent trip below the surface of the ocean, felt a pull on the line he let out slack until he had released about 80 fathoms. Then he took a hitch round the mast of the lugger. The lugger immediately went astern, swiftly at first, then more slowly. The skiff was towed a mile when a whale made its appearance above water, and immediately following this the lugger came to a stop. The whale had become tangled in the diver's line. Douglass was pulled to the surface uninjured and none the worse for his experience.

SOMETHING STILL TO LEARN

NEW YORK—Word from London that English shoe dealers are advertising special footwear for dancing the Charleston gives the flapper folk here a "Hey, Hey!" London footwear specialists announce that these shoes have safety garters over the toe and sole to hold them firmly in position.

Nobody in the stepping circles in this town ever saw any of the Charleston-ing folk wearing skid chains, snubbers or stick-tights on their shoes—and the air hasn't been full of flying shoes.

"It's just a gift, knowing how to keep 'em on," remarked one petite thing.

CASTLES NOT TO ORGANIZE TEAM THIS YEAR

Famous Quintet Tosses In "Sponge"

Lack Of Floor Facilities Here Causes Fast Team To Disband

WON 99 GAMES IN SIX YEARS

Repeated requests for basketball games by the leading teams of eastern United States has made it necessary for Alec Samuels, manager of the famed Castle Five, to come forth with the announcement that the famous Orange spheroid tossers will not assemble for the 1926-27 season, due to the handicap of not having a home floor in this city.

The announcement comes as a distinct blow to the hardwood sport here, as the city's representative quint was rapidly rising to great heights in basketball circles since its organization seven years ago.

Nary a single day passes by that Mr. Samuels does not receive a batch of letters in quest of games in New Castle. Many first-class attractions, including some of the leading college teams of the East, could have been booked at New Castle this winter had a floor been available, according to Alec today. They, however, all in turn have been refused and the result is that local floor fans are being denied the class of basketball that is prevalent in neighboring cities in this district.

Since their organization seven years ago, the Castles cut a big swath in basketball circles. The team the first three years overcame all opposition and finished at the top with championship laurels in this locality. The season 1923-24 saw the Orange passers reach the greatest heights when the aggregation of floor artists, under the capable tutelage of Coach Ralph H. Gardner, won the western Pennsylvania amateur floor title by virtue of their splendid achievements on the court, winning 23 games and dropping but four.

The following year, 1924-25, the boys dropped their first and third encounters and then surprised the basketball world by winning 19 consecutive games on foreign hardwoods, a record unequalled by any team in basketball history. Considering the inimical conditions under which the boys played, their record stands unparalleled. Easy games were unknown that year, Manager Samuels booking the leading amateur clubs of the country.

Last season the boys got away with a bang, but shortly before New Year's Day disbanded when three of their members departed for college. It was the sincere hope of Samuels to reorganize this winter, but the old question of a playing floor again confronts the management, and with no court in sight it is practically useless to organize.

Fine Record

In glancing over the records of the Castles, statistics show that the Orange team won 99 games and lost 21 in six years of active participation on the courts, for an average of .825, a record which the team can well be proud of when it is taken into consideration that the boys were forced to play the majority of their games out of town. Had the team remained together there is no question that they would not have reached the top in basketball, and in future years ranked with the leaders of the nation. The boys, all New Castle chaps, plpayed together since wee tots and many local fans watched the rise of the youngsters from year to year until they were looked upon as one of the most feared first-class amateur teams of the tri-state district.

New Castle may have its Industrial League, its Church League, its Junior League and other local circuits, but outside of local interest it attracts no one, whereas the future of the Castle Five meant great distinction and prestige for not only the Castle Five, but the city of New Castle, as Gardner's proteges won high praise wherever they played for their fine playing and clean sportsmanship, and the team from every sense of the word was a credit to New Castle.

A team composed of such players as Andy Hartman, "Horse" Gilhum, Johnny Kraft, Herbert Kroen, Billy Hood, Gus Slovonsky, Ray Nolte, Steve Volesko, Judson Heess, Jimmy Stone, George Patterson and William Genkinger represents the highest type of manhood found today, a group of boys clean in character and living, a group of boys who trained, refraining from the use of any tobacco in any form or shape, and a group of boys who played for the love of the game. Their loss is indeed a great one for New Castle, but faint hopes yet revive, and Samuels hopes to bring his fellow teammates again together some day to represent this city in basketball circles.

The success of the team befalls Ralph H. Gardner, Harry S. Day, and Manager Samuels. The trio gave everything they had to make the team a pronounced success and a success it was from every standpoint. Gardner's close association with the boys had a great deal to do with their splendid achievements and the efficient and careful managerial guidance by Alec Samuels was without peer. Fans here no doubt regret the passing of the Castles for this season, and many have already expressed their sincerest hopes of seeing the boys get together again in future years, and with a home floor available furnish New Castle with real basketball which will ultimately place this city on the map basketballistically.

Croton Has Fine Grid Combination

Croton A. C. With Two Victories And No Defeats Are On Way To Title

The football season of 1926 finds the Croton A. C. represented with one of the strongest teams in their history. The boys have won two independent grid battles to date and are well on their way to the championship.

With victories over the Shenango Pottery and South Side Bearcats so far, the Crotonites look forward to a successful season. In the two games played the Croton gridders have scored 38 points to none for their opponents.

Although the Croton line is light, it is considered one of the most powerful in the city. The backfield is composed of youngsters who have played with Croton for the past three years. They are as follows: Paul Benninghoff, C. Ross, J. Seward, F. Stewart and J. Yargo.

The linemen are as follows: C. Bernabies and R. Cutler at the ends, J. Lenner and T. Colaluca at the tackles, R. Colaluca and B. Leonelli at the guards, N. Cavalier at center, with C. Shetstrom, R. Nolan and others in reserve.

All teams wishing games call 4183M after five o'clock and ask for "Hap", the manager.

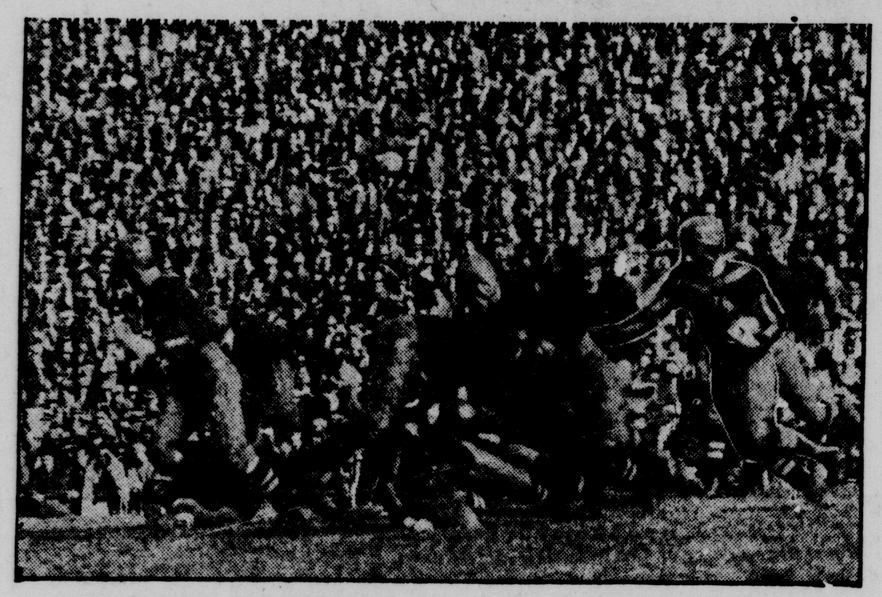
What Part Does Faulty Coaching Play In Grid Results? Query's Raised As Great Ohio Eleven Bows To Michigan



Freddie Grim, Ohio State, shown going around end for ten yards in Michigan-State game at Columbus, O. The figures tell of the gruelling battle—Michigan 17, Ohio 16.

By NORMAN E. BROWN

I passed up the big eastern games the other day to take in the crucial battle of the "Big Ten" conference, the game between Ohio State and Michigan at Columbus—a game that was staged before a larger assemblage than any other in the country.

And ever since that game I've been trying to figure out just how much poor head work by the coaching staff played in that game—and plays in any other grid battle, where astute teaching for months before such a game and quick thinking during such a conflict might have changed the result of the contest in question.

Ohio State lost the game 17 to 16. The defeat can be attributed without fear of criticism, to two things—failure of the coaching staff to instill so firmly in the minds of every player the most important rules of procedure that he will not err in a crisis, and poor judgment in the handling of the varsity members and the general conduct of the game.

State Dazzles Michigan.

Ohio State took the lead in the game early in the first quarter with a touchdown, goal from touchdown and a goal from the field. The Columbus team took Michigan off its feet with a diversified attack and an air of confidence that brooked no checking.

Then, with the 10 points in the bag the team suddenly changed its tactics and played a sane, careful, orthodox game. Trick plays and passes, which netted the early scores were put on the shelf. The fact that this change of pace continued in the second quarter would indicate that it had the sanction of Coach Wilce and his aides. Taking advantage of this, Michigan opened up an aerial attack and bag of trick plays that quickly cut down the lead and then enabled Michigan to tie the score.

Despite this sudden change in the game's complexion Ohio State retained its conservative style of play through the third quarter. It was not until Michigan had taken the lead, 17 to 10, in the last period that the State eleven went back to its first style of play—a dashing varied plan of offense. And that style again carried the team to a touchdown. But for the failure of Clark, toe expert, to kick the goal after the touchdown the game would have ended in a tie.

Why Was Eby Saved?

In addition to his apparent poor judgment in the conduct of the game the question was raised as to the reason for retaining on the sidelines through more than half the game the man who was mainly responsible for the comeback of State in the last quarter.

Byron Eby, brilliant open field runner, passer and defense man, was kept on the sidelines until after the beginning of the second half. Elmer Marek, another backfield star, was permitted to start the second half with a broken hand. It was he who paved the way for Michigan's winning touchdown. Michigan punted to Marek near his own goal posts. Marek elected to let the ball bound over the goal line. It took a lateral bounce, however, and started to roll toward the sidelines. Then Marek lost his head and tried to pick up the ball and return. His broken hand handicapped him and he fumbled. A Michigan man pounced on the ball and the next play put it over.

While Marek must be praised for his general play and gameness in the game one asks how he could play two years of varsity football under intensive coaching without maving instilled in his brain the procedure on a grounded punt.

After this play Eby was sent in. A few moments later he was faced with the same play and, playing heads up football, let the ball fall to the ground and come to rest without touching it.

A moment later he punted—one of the prettiest of the game—and it was his brilliant open field running and passing that helped send Ohio State to its last touchdown.

Thanks mainly to Eby, Michigan was plainly playing a defensive game the last three or four minutes of play—actually wishing for the end of the game.

Friedman a Great Player.

Michigan has a great team led by a great field general in Benny Friedman. But State also has a great team, estimating it on actual playing material.

Why, with the game the deciding one of the year for State, Coach Wilce let his team keep their best plays "in the bag" and why he saved Eby the greater part of the game—with defeat staring State in the fact, are unanswered.

And the other thought I have is while Marek, who erred in judgment, and Clark, whose toe failed him in the crisis, draw blame for the defeat in the archives, the exact part the coaches played in it can't be included in the records.

How much were they to blame?

Just how often do such errors occur in the big games—when the blame falls on the players themselves?

MAREK TO START AGAINST ILLINOIS

Move Construed as Gesture of Confidence In Marek

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 18.—Elmer Marek, Ohio State halfback whose fumble at a crucial moment in the Michigan-Ohio State game last Saturday let the Wolverines stay in the running for the Big Ten title will probably start the game against Illinois at Champaign, Ill. Saturday.

He has been worked so long and consistently in the backfield both at end running and line plunging, that it is taken for granted that he is to be among the first eleven to go on the field.

This move would be construed as a gesture of confidence on the part of the coach, Dr. John W. Wilce and as a chance for the Cedar Rapids lad to "redeem himself."

McMillin Drives Geneva Team In Hard Workout

Covenanters Hope To Regain Favor By Victory Over Allegheny

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Nov. 18—Furious workouts are being soaked to the blown up "Golden Tornado" of Geneva college this week by its savage coach, Bo McMillin.

Monday was a "light" practice, but the squad stayed on the field three hours, drilling, passing and punting. Tuesday afternoon the team fought for an hour and a half in real tough scrimmage. The boys were grouchy and showed no quarter to each other in the struggle. Harry Haude, varsity guard, received a severe back sprain in the scrimmage and was sent to a doctor with a numbed leg resulting from the wrenched back.

McMillin has repented of his leniency in giving the squad two holidays last week and is determined that the Gold and White will not become jaded in Saturday's contest because of a lack of physical stamnia. The Meadville bunch is feared more than any former opponent for a loss to the Methodists would be the final blow of Geneva's athletic ruin. There is much more alarm over the possible outcome of the Allegheny game than there was preceding the fatal day with Grove City.

Some followers of Bo's team expect the loss of both the remaining games. Others expect a swift come-back by the Beaver Falls machine. The team cares for neither of these opinions. They feel that they have lost the support of the fickle "valley fans" and are assuming a dogged air of disregard for any criticism, friends or sport writers. Their only desire is to "do something."

No prophecies as to Saturday's outcome can be coaxed out of local prophets. The situation is a puzzle There is lots at stake for Geneva when Allegheny lines up Saturday.

CRUICKSHANK AND VOIGHT WIN MEET

Bobby Cruickshank and his amateur partner, Voight, won the amateur South best-ball golf tourney at Pinehurst yesterday with a score of 138 for 36 holes. The score was five shots higher than last year when Leo Diegel, then Canadian champion and his partner, Davison, won.

Moriarty Can Hurl Soft Poetry Or Rough Cuss Words At Tigers

By NORMAN E. BROWN,

George Moriarty, who was the baby manager of the big leagues for a few days—until Ray Schalk succeeded Eddie Collins as White Sox pilot—ought to inject a new element into the game.

For the new Detroit bass, after winning fame as an infielder and then breaking into the umpiring game, began to attract attention as one of our modern rhyme artists.

George writes sonnets of the ball field—sons of the profession.

He tosses meters and feet about, poetically speaking, with the same abandon he calls balls and strikes. And one thing George has found in favor of the literary field, as against the sport realm. Criticism of his literary efforts—if criticism has been warranted—hasn't been couched in such plain language as are personal opinions occasionally expressed regarding his umpiring. One doesn't ever refer to a poet as "blind," "robber," etc., simply because his "dithyrambic sallies" displease.

Just whether or not George will call upon a few inspiring poetic lines or ordinary cuss words to spur the Tigers to greater deeds in the heat of the campaign is not known, but judging from the esteen in which he has been held as an umpire the boys need not expect to get the jump on him because he may lapse into a poetic mood occasionally. The chances are that George will confine his literary efforts to off hours.

Allegheny Squad Crippled For Game With Covenantors

Coach Merritt Tries Moon at Quarterback; Lusk Shifted To Halfback

MEADVILLE, Pa., Nov. 18.—Coach Merritt is still undecided what the Allegheny lineup will be at the start of the Geneva game next Saturday at Beaver Falls. With Fullback Brendel definitely out of the game on account of study deficiency the Allegheny mentor is seeking to find the best combination of backs to send against the Covenanters.

Moon is being drilled at quarterback and fullback, while Lusk the big 180 pound end has been shifted to halfback and may be seen at that position next Saturday. The fact that Hepler received a broken collar bone last Saturday makes it imperative for Coach Merritt to get another man ready to take the place of the flashy little player. Lusk seems to be the logical selection for he is big, fast and aggressive.

Either of two combinations may start in the backfield. One consists of Walcski, quarterback; Gillis, left halfback; Davis, right halfback and Moon fullback. The other is made up of Moon, quarterback; Gillis, halfback; Lusk, halfback and White, fullback.

WAMPUM TEAM WITHOUT GAME

The Wampum floor team, composed of former W. N. class stars, would like to arrange a floor contest for Tuesday, Dec. 7, was the announcement today.

For games with the Wampum quintet, write to Ralph Blythe at Wampum, Pa., as soon as possible.

The Wampum team will have a fast aggregation on the floor this year, the players already trying out for places being Boone, Hennon, Blythe, Patterson, Ferrucci, Galbreath and Grinnen.

Lion Gridders Do Well In Class Work

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Nov. 18.—Scholastic records for members of the Penn State football squad are better this fall than ever before, according to Dean E. A. Holbrook, chairman of the faculty athletic committee. The hard practice during the fall and the strain of a football season usually has its effect upon the grades of the grid warriors, but in the case of the present squad the boys have done well in their class work.

This is undoubtedly due in large measure to the fact that a number of the gridders are honor students in their various schools. This includes Mahoney, Hastings, Reed, Filack, Roepke and several more. The boys are under a great handicap because it is impossible for practice to begin until 5 o'clock, due to late classes, and while Coach Hugo Bezdek has insisted on ending the drills promptly at 7 each evening, it is considerably later when the evening meal is finished and the boys feel more like bed than they do studying.

It is hoped that by another year it will be possible to arrange class schedules so that the gridders can report by 4 o'clock and get through the two-hour practice period by 6. They would thus be able to do most of the work in daylight instead of having to depend almost entirely on the flood lights.

The Lions began their drills for the Pitt game Tuesday with a light workout following the lay-off on Monday. All of the boys are in good condition except Harold Hastings, veteran right guard, who has an infected leg. He expects to get back into harness by the end of the week, however, and can be depended upon to give a good account of himself in the game with the Panthers.

Bulldogs Defeat Union Alumni 9-0

Williams Scores Touchdown For Southside Bulldogs In Fast Battle

The South Side Bulldogs defeated the Union High Alumni team, 9 to 0, in a recent contest. The game was hard-fought and proved highly interesting.

Glynn Williams tallied the lone touchdown for the Bulldogs when he plunged 12 yards through the strong Union lines for the marker. The Bulldogs tallied two more points on a safety when Rech was tackled behind his own goal line with the ball in his arms after the Unions had held the Bulldogs on the one-yard line.

The Bulldogs had the ball within the scoring zone on several occasions, but lacked the punch to carry it across. Jack Reeder, the stellar South Side quarterback, tried two drop-kicks in the final period, but both went wide of their mark.

The defensive work of Frankie Merriman, the Bulldog center, was the outstanding feature of the game, while Thomas and Williams ripped off several fine gains. Fox, Rech and Hilliard were the best for the Unions.

Juniors Triumph Over Sophomores

Hardfought Class League Game On Wednesday Afternoon

GAME RESULT IS UPSET OF DOPE

The Juniors defeated the Sophomores at Franklin Field last evening by a score of 8 to 0 in one of the hardest fought and without an exception the best game of the season in the inter-class league, that has just been brought to a close.

The victory of the Juniors came as a surprise to most of the followers of the class teams for the advance dope gave the Sophomores the game.

One of the largest crowds of students and townspeople that has ever witnessed a game of this sort was on hand and even though the field was muddy and several bad puddles could be noticed the game was a thriller. Long runs were few and both teams were forced to punt time after time after failing to gain by running the ball.

The game opened with the Juniors kicking off. The Sophomores were unable to gain and were forced to punt. The Juniors in their turn could not gain regularly and returned the kick on the fourth down. The quarter ended with the Sophomores holding the ball in midfield. Woodworth intercepted a pass on the first down in the second quarter and was thrown to the ground right in a big pool of water. It was the largest puddle on the field and he resembled a drowned rat when he was pulled to the shore by several of his team mates. They were unable to gain and punted to the Sophomores. Smith returned the punt on the next play and Woodworth took the ball on the run on the 35 yard line and run around the right end for a touchdown. This was the nicest run of the game and resembled the run of 50 yards that he made against Ben Franklin several weeks ago. Mike Kulich failed to kick the goal.

The Juniors again kicked but the half ended before any damage could be done by either side.

At the beginning of the second half Bob Dinsmore, husky Sophomore linesman took the kickoff and run quite a distance before being downed by F. Christman. Herbert Smith wa sthe only back the Sophomores had that could do much against the Junior line and he made several gains of a worth while character. Neither team threatened to score during this quarter and the only thrill was furnished by Mooney, fighty Sophomore end. He broke up an attempted pass and took the ball on the run and went 15 yards before being brought down.

The ball changed hands several times during the last quarter and after a final exchange of kicks the Sophomores had the ball in their own 10 yard line. A very short time remained to play and Smith attempted several forward passes without completion and they were penalized. He was tackled behind his own goal line on the next play for a safety and the ball was put in play from the 20 yard line. Only one play was completed before the whistle blew ending the tilt.

H. Smith and DeCarbo were the outstanding players for the Sophs while Woodworth was the best performer for the winners. Kulich showed up well at end and his punting was good.

Lineup and summary follows:

Juniors—8		Sophomores—0
Brown	L E	McCune
Frampton	L T	Dinsmore
Dufford	L G	Myler
Swietzer	C	Huffner
Soyring	R G	Young (C)

Linesmen—Mooney and Mike DeThomas.

The Coast's Big Game

By Feg Murray

Next Saturday will see many "big games" (and most of them will be the last contests of the year for the rival elevens), but none will attract as large or as colorful a gathering as the Stanford-California classic on the Pacific coast. How about the Yale-Harvard or the Ohio State-Illinois games, you may ask? The Yale bowl can seat around 80,000 at the most, and the Illinois stadium 67,000, but over 100,000 persons will view the game in the California Memorial stadium day after tomorrow, 78,000 sitting within the enclosure and about 25,000 more on the "ticketed" space on the hillside above the bowl.

This, the "Yale-Harvard game of the far west," is like its big brother in the east in that the rivalry between the two schools involved is so intense and so historic that the interest in the game is just as great, even though one or both of the contesting elevens has been previously defeated. When Captains Swan and Griffin meet with the referee in the center of the field upon which the late Andy Smith's ashes were scattered, no one will care that California has experienced her most disastrous season in years, or that comparative scores show Stanford to have a far stronger team.

One of the features of the coast's big game are the "bleacher stunts" executed by the rival cheering sections. I have seen games all over this country, except in the south, and nowhere except in California do they do these things, which are spectacular in the extreme. By means of colored cards, which each rooter holds up in front of him, or by use of colored capes and hoods, and white shirts, the massed thousands of men students are able to build huge block letters, emblems, pictures, and so forth. The effect is very startling when a great "C" or "S" in gold on blue or in white on red, is changed instantly to blue on gold, or red on white, in time to music or to one of the college yells.

A huge silhouette of Capt. Ernie Nevers, in a kicking pose, was made by the Stanford cheering section last year, as well as a mammoth locomotive which puffed out real smoke from its chimney in time to the famous "locomotive yell". The California Bear, the famous axe, and the American flag, are other electrifying living pictures that have been seen at this big game in recent years.

Feg Murray Says—

Suggested yell for the Barber's college football team:

"Wah Hoo! Sham Poo! Talcum and Bay Rum!
Shaving brush, in his mush! Put 'em on the bum!
Who? What? Hair Cut? Have his brodies shined?
Yip Yip! No tip! Clip 'em from behind!"

Here And There In Sports' Land

By ED. FRITZ

ACCORDING to Coach Drake, Academy high of Erie, "players and officials conferred (prior to the official start of the grid season) and we decided on three objectives to which we would strive to attain throughout the season. None of these objectives pointed toward the winning of every game. That may seem strange, yet it wasn't considered necessary that Academy win every game on its schedule to make the season a success."

DRAKE added, according to Jack Kastner in the Times-Dispatch of Erie, that "one of our objectives has passed. It was the game with East High in the city series. The second is the game Saturday with Dayton Steel High and the third is the game with New Castle on Thanksgiving Day. We have reached one objective in retaining the city championship. We hope to attain the other two."

THE mentor goes on to say what an Academy victory over Dayton Steele will mean to Erie as a city. "If we win on Saturday, scholastic followers all over the country will know about Erie, for Dayton Steele's games are sent broadcast. If we lose—but let's not think about that part of it", he suggests. The writer sincerely hopes that Academy High defeats Dayton Steele and sincerely hopes that Academy High loses to New Castle so the Red and Black can receive exploitation as a result of their victory.

THERE is one point in that interview between Drake and Jack Kastner the writer wishes to refer to. It is the 'individual star angle'. A gridiron star is ushered into existence through the efforts of his teammates, in the opinion of a writer. While his feats may be chronicled far and wide, the lowly member of the scrub team and the other players of the varsity should not be forgotten in the excitement, before, during and after a game. Individualism means little; organization and co-operation, everything.

KASTNER further writes of Drake: "He paid a high tribute to local newspapers in the stand they have taken regarding the local game. He emphasized the fact that in very few instances have the sports writers sent out to cover these games picked any one individual player and stood him on a pedestal above the rest of the team. Occasionally there have been instances where some one player was dserving of honorable mention. There was no objection to that. But, Erie sports writers have seen the game as he has seen it, taking the team as a whole instead of as a group of individual stars".

DRAKE is opposed to an All-American team, and perhaps he meant a local all-scholastic team, says Kastner. "With Walter Camp out of the picture, All-American teams have become more or less a nuisance. Sports writers all over the country endeavor to pick All-American teams and they mean nothing. There is no uniformity in selection; writers make choices of players whom they have never seen in action. A better plan to satisfy the individual players looking for a little well-deserved glory at the end of the season is to establish a national football honor roll, but not to place the name of every man that ever kicked a field goal or made a 70-yard run on it."

FANS who attend football contests at Ben Franklin field should remember that representatives of newspapers have first call on seats in the press box. During the past two or three games reporters have had to eblow their way into their seats, and last Saturday an Ellwood City newspaper man was forced to sit at quite a distance from a group of local reporters. Reporters, as a rule, call the numbers and identify the players on their team.

If fans care to occupy the press box they should confine their criticism to themselves. The writer has always deemed it decidedly unethical for a newspaper representative to shout criticism from a seat reserved for the press. Very few ever commit this breach. Fans who occupy the press box should follow the adage: "When in Rome, do as the Romans do".

STUFFY McINNIS IS NOT CLAIMING FLAG

Stuffy McInnis, new boss of the Phillies, says he does not intend to claim the pennant before the season begins. He says the National circuit race should be an open one with five or six teams having a chance. Stuffy is looking for new, young material.

ARNOLD HORWEEN TO BE HARVARD'S COACH

Arnold Horween, Chicago, has accepted an offer to return as coach of Harvard for three years. He made the foregoing announcement at an undergraduate rally at Cambridge, Mass. He says the team will be in their best form Saturday.

Bowser Had Fine Record As Coach At Grove City

GROVE CITY, Pa., Nov. 18.—The passing of Coach Charles Bowser at the close of this football season from Grove City to Pitt makes interesting a review of his coaching record. Bowser graduated from Pitt in the spring of 1923. The following fall he came to Grove City as assistant to Coach "Chalky" Williamson. When Williamson was signed by the Pitt authorities to act as assistant to Coach Sutherland, Bowser became head coach at Grove City in the fall of 1924. His first year in the capacity of head coach at Grove City resulted rather disastrously. Out of a nine-game schedule, three games were won, five games lost and one game a tie score. Athletic officials believed that Bowser had the possibilities of a great coach, however, and were desirous of giving the youthful coach a fair trial. Bowser responded to the confidence placed in him by the Crimson authorities by winning the smaller college championship last fall and by repeating the performance again this this season.

During the three years the popular coach has been at Grove City his teams have won 16 games, lost six and tied one. His greatest achievements were the victory over Allegheny college last fall, 27-0, and the Geneva victory this fall, 3-0. Both of these contests were championship affairs in which Grove City entered the underdog.

University of Chicago seniors now carry canes to distinguish them from lower classmen.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

Harvard became real peeved at Princeton the other day over something or other that matters not to the average fan. They broke off football relations, temporarily at least—or for two years as was the case last time.

But the point is that Princeton got angry at what the Harvard school paper said, took its dolls and went home.

Now approximately 55,000 persons paid to see the game after which row came to a head. They paid $5 each for the privilege of witnessing the football battle between 22 athletes and the row around the goal posts between some 5,000 wild students.

A New York scribe digs up the fact that 50 years ago, when football was in its swaddling clothes, the Harvard treasurer reported that the total receipts for the season amounted to $705 and $70 of that was received from Yale as the Crimson's share from their annual battle. The school spent $860 on the team, including railroad fare for trips out of town.

Perhaps the members of the Big Three had less time to get het up over petty matters in those days. They had to spend more time trying to break even on the season's income and expenses.

Now the game nets each one of the institutions several hundred thousands dollars a year.

Apparently the money has brought with it a feeling of independence.

And in passing I wonder if the Harvard and Princeton officials are real sure that some other opponents each season can be counted on to fill the Harvard stadium and Princton field with the regularity that the "Big Three" games did.

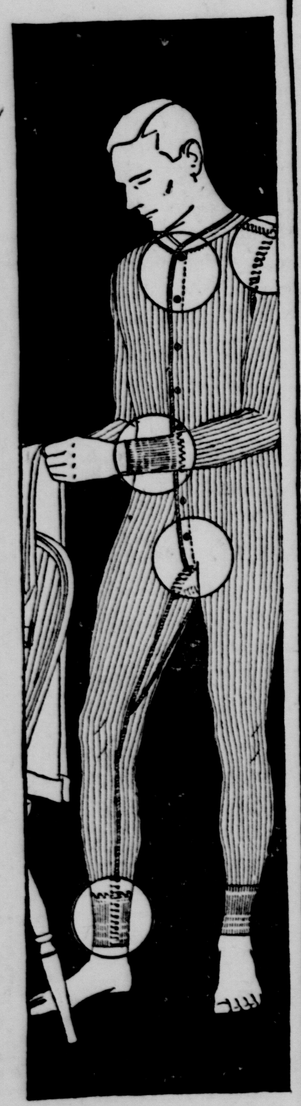
I am of the impression that Dan Howley, new manager of the St. Louis Browns, will make several changes in the personnel of that team before the opening gong rings next April.

Howley made a success of his job with Toronto by careful selection of his players and intensive training methods once he had found the man he wanted. He got wonderful results from young pitchers.

It's a good bet that Howley will try to use one or two of the in-and-out hurlers of the Browns for trading material, that he probably will use the veteran Ken Williams for the same purpose, and will try to get playing material rather than cash for George Sisler, deposed manager.

Chances are that he will try to find a young first baseman immediately and break him into the infield combination. Robertson, Gerber, McManus, Mellilo and La Motte give Dan plenty of good men for the other infield berths. He can afford to work in a new man at first now so that the next season or two will find him with a well organized parmanent infield.

Ask your wife to examine this underwear She'll see its value



WOMEN know values. They see in a minute that HANES garments are made of fine, strong fabric that is smooth and warm. They see the flat, well-made seams, the strong buttonholes, and that buttons are sewed on to stay.

Dealers tell us that women who buy for husbands or sons are their best customers for HANES Underwear. They know it is big value for the money; that it will stand lots of wear and washing.

Ask your dealer to show you this underwear with the red HANES label. You can get shirts and drawers or union suits, extra heavy, heavy or lighter weights. Union suits for boys and children too.

If you don't find HANES at your regular store, write to us.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

The Struggle for Missouri--1861-'62.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

© McClure Newspaper Syndicate

IN THE SUMMER OF 1861 THE CONFEDERATES MADE A DETERMINED ATTEMPT TO GAIN CONTROL OF MISSOURI. THIS STATE OCCUPIED AN IMPORTANT STRATEGIC POSITION IN THE WEST AND BOTH SIDES WANTED IT.

SECESSIONISTS OF MISSOURI AND ARKANSAS RALLIED UNDER GEN. STERLING PRICE AND OPPOSED THE UNION ARMY OF NATHANIEL LYON. IN A FIERCE STRUGGLE AT WILSON'S CREEK, NEAR SPRINGFIELD, ON AUG. 10, GEN. LYON WAS KILLED AND HIS TROOPS DRIVEN NORTHWARD.

GEN. FREMONT WAS GIVEN COMMAND OF THE UNION FORCES IN THE WEST, BUT WAS SOON RELIEVED BY HUNTER, WHO IN TURN WAS SUCCEEDED BY HALLECK. GEN. CURTIS, SENT BY HALLECK AGAINST THE CONFEDERATES (NOW LED BY VAN DORN), DROVE THE SOUTHERN TROOPS OUT OF MISSOURI AND SCATTERED THEM AT THE BATTLE OF PEA RIDGE, ARKANSAS, ON MARCH 7-8, 1862.

UNION SUPREMACY IN MISSOURI WAS NOW ESTABLISHED, BUT THE STATE BECAME THE OBJECT OF DESTRUCTIVE RAIDS BY CONFEDERATE CAVALRY, WHILE THE LARGE SECESSIONIST ELEMENT CAUSED GREAT ANXIETY.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Wednesday's late reaction was carried over into the early trading in the stock market today. The professionals poured out a heavy volume of offerings of United States Steel, General Motors and other pivotal stocks, in an effort to force a lower range of prices for the market as a whole. But these offerings were well taken and the market displayed considerable resistance to price-smashing.

A decline of 25 to 30 cents a barrel in Pennsylvania crude oil completed the "first round" of country wide price-cuts forecasted about a month ago, and the direct result of which is expected to be a corresponding decline in crude oil production. The mid-western gasoline markets were weak, with prices down about a quarter-cent a gallon.

Heavy trading in the Standard Oil of New Jersey rights took place simultaneously with the decline in the market price of the stock to 41¼, the lowest price on the move. Lower prices were also quoted for Phillips, Marland, Skelly, Shell Union and other prominent oil shares.

Trading in the railroad shares was comparatively light. Call money renewals were unchanged at 4½ per cent.

The race for market leadership between U. S. Steel and General Motors was won by the latter, which also extended its price "spread" to 3 points above its rival. Stewart Warner continued its advance to above 68, and Pullman was active at a slightly higher range of prices.

CHARITY NEED IS DECREASED

E. J. Berquist Of Mission Says Need Of Charity Not As Great As Months Ago

According to E. J. Berquist, superintendent of the City Rescue Mission, the need for charity in this city has decreased in the past 12 months. The necessity for providing baskets at Thanksgiving time is not as great this year as it has been, and a subsequent decrease in the number provided by the mission will be seen.

Plans are under way for the annual Christmas distribution and these will include distribution of what baskets are necessary and the annual treat for the children.

THE NEW CASTLE NEWS DISPLAY ADS ARE READ BY 90,000 DAILY

STATISTICS show that of all the failures in the United States last year, eighty-five per cent did not advertise. The answer is obvious. Every successful merchant and manufacturer advertises. And that is one of the reasons for success. For local advertising The News, is the best medium. It goes into the homes of all classes—homes that constitute the buyers you wish to reach.

Big Increase In Car Loadings

Million And Half Increase Over Last Year In U. S.

GOOD SERVICE BY RAILROADS NOW

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Revenue freight car loadings will total 52,700,939 this year an increase of 1,532,979 over 1925, it was estimated today in a report of the car service division to the directors of the American Railway association meting here. The report was approved and sent to the membership of the association.

Bituminous coal production from January 1 to October 23 was 447,312,000 tons, an increase of 42,642,000 over the same period last year, the report said and only 3.6 per cent under the amount for the same period in 1923, the highest since the war.

Coal dumped at Atlantic ports between January 1 and September 30 this year was 11,602,469 tons compared with 4,279,135 tons during the same period last year, the report said, due to the British coal strike.

American railroads are now rendering the best service to shippers in history, the report said, greater volume being handled, more cars and locomotives being available and demurrage being cut.

LETTERS TO THE NEWS

APPRECIATES NEWS

The following letter from J. F. Calahan, manager of the Western Union Telegraph office at Bluefield, W. Va., to Jake Rentz of The News will be read with interest by many of Mr. Calahan's old friends here:

Bluefield, W. Va.,
Nov. 15, 1926.

Dear Jake:—

Please renew the subscription for another three months. It's more than eight years since we left New Castle, and if we didn't get the News each day, I'm sure I don't know what we would do for "news". It's better than a dozen letters from home.

Your dad is some boy when it comes to putting on big banquets, and my only regret is that I was not able to attend it.

J. F. CALAHAN.

Students Hear Senator Lanius

Senator Henry Lanius was the speaker of the program at Chapel exercises held at the Senior High school Wednesday. New Castle is one of the centers for the establishment of schools and shops for the blind and it was about this that Senator Lanius talked to the students.

Principal F. L. Orth led in devotionals and then turned the program for the morning over to Earl Book of the Lions Club who told the students of the speaker and the work that he has been doing although totally blind and then introduced the Senator.

Mr. Lanius had nothing but praise for the work that the Rotary Club has been doing in New Castle along the lines of hospital clinics and then told of the work that the Lions were trying to put across. He asked them for their support when they begin the survey that they are planning to make in the near future for the benefit of the blind.

Patents Machine For Concrete Blocks

New Castle Man Invents Machine To Simplify Process Of Block Making

By GEORGE H. MANNING
(Washington Correspondent of the News.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 18.—The manufacture of concrete blocks for building purposes will be simplified by a machine invented by Edward A. Long of New Castle, Pa., for which the United States patent office has just granted a patent.

The machine consists of a turnover mold box mounted on a frame into which the concrete is poured. After the mold is filled a pallet forming a cover is clamped in place and the mold turned upside down, releasing the formed concrete block.

Fire Destroys Braddock Store

(International News Service)

BRADDOCK, Pa., Nov. 18.—Fire of undetermined origin early today destroyed the two-story frame building occupied by the clothing store of Frank Bernstein and an apartment above occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Raffele Harbinian and their three children. The Harbinions were carried down ladders by firemen. Damage was estimated at $10,000.

Bad Cold? Take "Cascarets" for Bowels Tonight

No headache, constipation, bad cold or sour stomach by morning

Get a 10-cent box.

Sick headache, biliousness, coated tongue, head and nose clogged up with a cold—always trace this to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach.

Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret to-night will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months.

BREAD AND WATER DIET FOR DRUNKS

(International News Service)

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Nov. 18.—A bread and water diet was instituted at the Montgomery County jail today by Warden Romanus Fellman for all prisoners sent to jail on intoxication charges.

John Baily, 50, of Jeffersonville, arrested seven times on charges of drunkenness, sentenced to 30 days in prison led the procession of ten other prisoners to their dinner of bread and water while the two hundred other convicts sat down to a meal of baked beans and coffee.

Fellman's action followed the unusual large number of prisoners sentenced recently for drunkenness in Montgomery county.

Garment Workers Strike Is Ended

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 18—.The 20-weeks strike of the garment workers was an an end today. The strikers voted to accept the peace terms already agreed upon by their leaders and the manufacturers, 9,945 to 2,533.

The new contract will remain in effect until June 1, 1929. It grants slightly higher wages, as recommended by the governor's commission, but allows the manufacturers to reorganize their shops once a year, with the right where a certain number of workers are employed to discharge 10 per cent of the working force.

The strikers reported for work today.

COAL TAKES LONG HARD FALL

LATROBE, Pa., Nov. 18.—With hundreds of cars of coal ready for shipment when word was received that the British strike had been settled coal took a big drop here. It is said many mines may be closed down again.

The old-time milk wagon is being superseded by electrically refrigerated trucks for the delivery of milk, ice cream, etc.

STOMACH UPSET

Get at the real cause. That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods, Take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. Know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain. All Druggists.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 15c, 30c, 60c.

New Blood Treatment Will Drive Eczema From the Land Says Physician

McKee's Kut Rate Store Has A Supply of it and Those Who Suffer From Eczema or Obstinate Skin Eruptions Can Try it at No Expense.

After months of experiment, a New York Physician has found the right way to overcome the cause of eczema and skin eruptions of a chronic nature and has placed his treatment in Drug Stores throughout the country for the benefit of the public.

You've got to get to the acid in the blood for skin troubles and when you take Ocean-O you are sure to get a natural supply of the vitalizing organic alkaline minerals that will speedily counteract the acidity and give your blood the alkaline elements it constantly uses up and needs.

Then you'll find that the itching and all signs of eczema will disappear. The skin will clear up and you will be free from unsightly eruptions that mar your complexion and embarrass you.

You take not the least risk in getting a 10 ounce bottle of Ocean-O from McKee's Kut Rate Store or any pharmacist anywhere for if it doesn't end your skin troubles and rid you of eczema your money will be returned.

DINNER STORIES

"I have only one request to make," groaned the college man who had come to participate in the harvest, declares Country Gentleman.

"What is that, Mr. Smart?" returned the farmer.

"Please let me stay in bed long enough for the lamp chimney to cool off."

Sam had pasesd through a harrowing experience, says Dairy Record. He had seen a ghost. While his audience listened with bulging eyes, he related the details of his adventure.

"As jes' came out of de cowshed," he said, "an' Ah had a bucket o' milk in mah hand. Den Ah hears a noise by de side of de road an' de ghost rushes out."

"Good heavens!" interrupted one of his listeners. "Did yo' shake with fright, Sam?"

"Ah don't know what Ah shook wid. As hain't sayin' for suttin' Ah shook at all. But when Ah got home Ah foun' all de milk gone an' two pounds o' butter in de bucket."

A traveling man married and took his wife with him on one of his trips. They stopped at a certain hotel, and he boasted to his wife that the entire hostelry knew him so well, and liked him so much, they went out of their way to satisfy every little whim and desire.

"Now, my dear, you know how fond I am of honey. Well, they know of it here too, and there's always a jar of honey on my table when I take my seat in the dining room."

However on reaching their table no honey was in sight. He called the waiter over and asked: "Waiter where's my honey?"

"Ah is sorry, boss, but dey done put col'o'd men heah instead of white waitresses, so do girls are all gone."

British air lines are to fly an ensign, which will be specially designed as the flag of Britain's air fleet, just as the red ensign is the flag of the mercantile marine.
